MELLON ASSERTS PENNSYLVANIA TO SUPPORT HOOVER

BROTHER AND SISTER MEET FIRST TIME IN 60 YEARS

A happy reunion occurred yesterday at 490 Neshannock avenue when Mrs. Bridget Dugan received the first visit in sixty years from her brother William Hickey, of Todd County, Minnesota.

When Mrs. Dugan, then a young girl, left their home in Eagle Harbor, Michigan, sixty years ago and came east to live, her brother was a lad of only 7 years of age. And this is the first time that they have seen each other since she left her childhood home years ago.

Mr. Hickey was accompanied to New Castle yesterday by another sister Mrs. Alice Hudson who resides in Cleveland. He came to Cleveland by train from Minnesota but finished the trip yesterday by auto from Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. William Meier accompanying them.

There are two other brothers of the family, Mike and John Hickey, who live in Seattle, Washington whom they have not seen for 25 years. This is the first trip that Mr. Hickey has ever made east and is enjoying it very much.

Rogers Forsakes Joking To Praise the Bunion Derby

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 15.—It's about time somebody gives a real endurance test some credit — this foot race to New York, and a twenty-year-old kid from Claremore, Okla., leading it.

It's all right to kid it and call it bunion, but no athlete in any other branch of sport could get up every day for three straight months and run from 40 to 70 miles. Sporting writers write pages over some football players 70-yard run.

Our champion prize fighters can only fight 30 minutes every two years. There is not a golf player that could have stood this same trip in an automobile.

You will find it's the grit, and the heart, that's doing this more than bunions, or ingrowing toe nails. So be fair and give 'em a break.

Yours from Claremore,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc is glad to welcome to New Castle the representatives of the Pennsylvania Credit Men's organization, in their annual convention which opens its sessions here today. New Castle is glad to extend the privileges of every facility that the city affords to these business men who are in our midst for a few days.

Starting tomorrow some hundreds of visitors will be in New Castle for the three day reunion of the Scottish Rite bodies at the Cathedral. Pa Newc is certain that his great big family here will do their utmost to aid these visitors in making their stay in this city a pleasant and impressive one. These reunions, which occur twice a year, bring many visitors to New Castle from a wide area of Western Pennsylvania, and are doing a great deal to give an impetus to the fast growing importance of this little tin plate centre of the world.

It would not be a bad idea if some of the operators of cars on the Highland line would give a little more attention to the patrons of the line. On several occasions recently, we have seen cars pull out from the terminal on North Mill street in the evening, and leave patrons standing in the street within a few steps of the door. The cars were not crowded either.

There should be an abundance of rabbits for the hunters of Lawrence county next fall, according to present indications. In an auto trip about the "back country" of Lawrence county last night, Pa Newc saw at least half a dozen bunnies scamper across the road at various times.

It is the contention of one of the friends of Pa Newc, a man who has done much work among the younger children during the past five years, that New Castle needs more and better play grounds for the children during the summer months. As play grounds are a purely civic proposition, this would mean the whole hearted cooperation of the city.

Those who think of hotel room clerks as pale, anemic persons, have only to go up to The Castleton, where they will see three athletic persons behind the desk during the day. How do they do it, one asks. Well, every other afternoon, they play 18 holes of golf. Which is one way to keep fit.

A new step has invaded the realm of Terpsicore. It is a stomp off, here comes Charlie, or words to that effect. But, anyway, the substance and the prerequisities of the dance are these: first one must get a pair of

Hundreds Will Attend Reunion Next Three Days

Consistory Reunion To Be Held At Cathedral Starting Wednesday

JAMES J. DAVIS TO BE SPECIAL GUEST

Program Will Conclude On Friday Evening; See Record Attendance

With every indication pointing to the largest reunion held here in years, officers of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, Valley of New Castle are ready for the opening on Wednesday morning, May 16, of the summer reunion.

It will last until Friday evening, May 18. Many out of town members and candidates for degrees are expected to arrive this afternoon and this evening to get in before the rush starts on Wednesday morning.

Early Wednesday morning the registrations will open and according to Commander-in-Chief William H. Dunlap, the class for the reunion will number somewhere near 400. With a present membership of 6600, this will bring the total of members to approximately 7000.

Davis, Guest Of Honor.

The degree work will open at 10:05 Wednesday morning and continue all day. Wednesday evening, James J. Davis, secretary of labor in the cabinet of President Calvin Coolidge will come here from Cleveland, Ohio, as the guest of honor of the reunion and will address the members and candidates Wednesday evening.

The time of arrival of Mr. Davis is not definitely set but it is expected that he will get here about 8:30 o'clock. A committee will go to Cleveland by automobile to get him and expect to return by eight. The presence of Mr. Davis will be the high spot of the day's program, and of the entire reunion.

The outstanding feature of the Thursday program will be the ceremonial of the Builders, the boys organization, which will take place at 4 p. m. Thursday, May 17. Master Builder Millard of Chicago, Ill., will be here to conduct the ceremonial and following it the boys will be the guests of the New Castle Consistory at dinner.

Friday, May 18, the closing day of the reunion will be Ladies Day. Wives and sweethearts of the members will be entertained and at 5:30 will be entertained at dinner. At 8:00 o'clock a reception and entertainment will be held in the auditorium of the Cathedral and at nine o'clock dancing and cards will close the program of the day and of the reunion.

Many Guests Here.

Because of the pleasant weather and the splendid condition of the roads, hundreds of guests from other cities will be here. Uniontown, Somerset, Titusville, Sharon, Oil City, New Kensington, Kittanning, and other cities will have large delegations in, and the reunion will take on the appearance of homecoming week at some college. Veteran members who have been in the work of the fraternity for years come back and enjoy the fellowship, and the newer members enjoy the experience of knowing the men who carried the burden in years gone by.

Mellon In Statement Pays Tribute To Hoover As Most Suitable Candidate

Mellon Expresses Belief That Hoover Will Be Elected; Sees Party Harmony

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The capital wrote Pennsylvania's 79 votes in the Kansas City convention into the Hoover column today.

Almost the last lingering doubt that the Mellon-Vare organization will go solidly for Hoover was dispelled today by Secretary Mellon's amplification of his Philadelphia statement.

"I don't see any reason for any doubt as to what I meant," said the secretary. "I spoke plain English. I think Mr. Hoover can win if he is nominated, and I think he would make a good President. Many things can happen between now and the convention, and for that reason it was thought unwise to make final committment so far in advance."

The one thing that apparently can switch Pennsylvania from Hoover, it was indicated, would be for President Coolidge to consent to stand again.

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., May 15.—Drivers of the two cars in which eight persons were killed in a collision with a Pennsylvania Railroad train at Espyville, today had been found negligent by a coroner's jury which investigated the crash. The railroad was cleared of all blame. Both drivers were killed.

The drivers of the two cars were apparently racing and did not notice the approaching train, James Pilmer, of Erie, engineer testified. Both machines ran into the train, he said.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 15.—Following a succession of mishaps, the two army amphibian planes of relief expedition going to the Straits of Belle Isle, Labrador, to attempt to bring the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen back to civilization, were separated today but it was hoped they would be able to rejoin and go forward together.

The plane carrying Major General James E. Fechet, commander of the expedition, and piloted by Lieutenant Elwood Quesada, reached Pictou, N. S., late yesterday. The other plane, carrying Fred Melchior, Junkers expert, and piloted by Captain Ira Eaker, was forced down near Tatamagouche, N. S., when it ran short of fuel.

ASHTABULA, O., May 15.—C. C. "Cross Country" Pyle's 55 pavement pounders tabbed Ohio as another state to their credit today as they pushed eastward from here for Erie Pa., a distance of 45 miles and their 73rd control.

Since leaving Los Angeles March 4, the survivors of a starting field of 199 have successively crossed California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

Payne Still Leads .

Andrew Payne, ruddy-cheeked Oklahoma youth who heads the big parade with an elapsed time of 469:39:10 for the 2,845.1 miles displayed the mettle of leadership Monday by romping to a tie with John Salo, Passaic, N. J., Finnish-American, on the 41.1 mile lap from Arrowhead Beach in 5:50:48. Payne thus retained his lead of 21:49:27 over Salo as a result.

The heel and toe brigade which traversed 228 miles in four days appeared little the worse for the trying ordeal and even those who are so far behind the leaders that their chances of placing in the ten moneys for the prizes aggregating $48,500 were dim, felt confident that they would complete the trek to the eastward goal.

While absent he will keep in touch with New Castle folks thru the means of a letter to The News now and then, he said as he prepared to depart. He is also taking a camera along, so that he can bring back pictures of interesting sights.

Relate Story Of Battle 2000 Feet Up In Air Before Crash Of Plane

(International News Service)

PONTIAC, Mich., May 15.—The thrilling story of his fierce hand-to-hand battle with a hammer-swinging passenger 2,000 feet in the air was related today by Pilot Harry Anderson, 28, before he fell into a death-like stupor.

The passenger, Clarence Frechette, 24, has been under police guard in the city hospital since he was pulled out of the wreckage of the plane on the grounds of the Pontiac insane asylum.

Swings Hammer on Pilot.

"Frechette met me Sunday at Roseville and asked me to take him to Pontiac yesterday," Anderson said.

"While flying the machine I looked over my shoulder and saw Frechette swinging on me with a hammer. The hammer landed an awful blow on the side of my head. I felt the plane go into a spin as I lost consciousness. I recovered sufficiently to pull out of the plane when we were close to the ground. But I couldn't keep her from crashing."

Anderson's story was obtained by officers as he went to the operating table because it was feared he might not live to make a complaint against Frechette. Anderson's skull is fractured, it is believed, and he suffered severe lacerations.

Tells Different Story.

Frechette told a startling different story.

"I was at the controls," he said, "and Anderson tried to take them away from me. I fought to keep the plane from crashing."

Police, however, say Anderson was the pilot and Frechette just a passenger. Frechette's condition is not serious.

A farewell note written by Frechette to Miss Georgia Pardee, Pontiac, and marked "death is my postage, sweetheart," is held by authorities.

Church Slayer Feared Attack, Tragedy Cause

Fear Of Constant Threats Against Life Prompted Murder, Claim

Self-Defense Will Likely Be Plea Of Attorney; Widow Near Collapse

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 15.—Fear brought on by constant threats against his life caused F. J. Tyrrell, Munhall Sunday school superintendent, to shoot Phillip Clark, husband of the choir singer in whose divorce suit he was attorney, according to a statement made today by J. Thomas Hoffman, counsel for Tyrrell.

The night before the shooting in the Munhall church, a friend called Tyrrell and warned him to "watch out for Clark at church Sunday morning," the statement continues. It was not until Clark had pointed at him and made a gesture toward his pocket that Tyrrell drew an automatic and shot him, Hoffman said.

Tyrrell Silent

In his cell at the Allegheny County to discuss the killing or give any reason for his refusal to do so. He has seemed stunned since the fatal shooting ended the church services.

Mrs. Clark has been in a state of collapse since she witnessed the shooting of her husband. She was to be called today if her health permits to explain to what extent her marital difficulties entered into the slaying. Detectives said. Clark had charged Tyrrell with breaking up his home and alienating the affections of his wife.

The shooting following attempts on the part of Clark to have Tyrrell ousted from his position in the church.

Marshal Chang was formerly known as the "Manchurian war lord". He maintained a powerful army in Manchuria and was said to have been on the friendliest terms with the Japanese. He moved into Peking and seized control of the government. For a time his armies were successful against the nationalists, but since the fighting began this spring in Shantung peninsula his forces were decisively defeated in several battles.

hard, hard leather heels. Then one must pick them up and set them down with the maximum of noise and the minimum of grace. That is all there is to it. Young Idea, stomp off!

Today the credit men of Pennsylvania have assembled in New Castle at their annual convention. Better treat them well, for on their lists appears your name.

Tomorrow is the first circus day of the season. The kids of the Seventh ward district have a little on the lads of the remainder of the city on circus day, having the big tents raised down in their locality. They will all be on hand early tomorrow morning to watch unloading, and to lend a hand when necessary.

We notice that quite a number of farmers have planted their corn crop during the past few days, several fields having been seen with the marks of the corn drill across them. We also noticed that the oats in a number of fields has made its way up through the soil and the surface of the fields are taking on a greenish appearance. The scarcity of rain during the past three weeks has left the soil quite dry and it will take some good showers to bring the crops along after they are planted.

Different opinions come from different parts of the country districts as to the effect of the frosts on Saturday and Sunday nights upon the fruit crop. There is no doubt that many of the blossoms of early fruit trees were frozen, especially those that were out in full bloom. Yet by observation last evening it was seen that many blossoms on each tree were unhurt and since there are such an abundance of blossoms this spring it looks like a fairly good crop if no more heavy frosts come. Of curse there is the danger that the freeze may have injured the blosom stem so that many may drop off in a few days.

STATE CREDIT MEN IN SESSION

That will mean when a person pays promptly in one city he will be accepted by the stores of another city as a good risk. He will be able to open a charge account without any trouble.

"Another thing that we will stress is an amendment to the state law in which merchandise which is sold on lease or by the installment plan will be exempt from attachment by landlords.

"Then, we plan to start a state-wide educational campaign to let the people know how credit bureaus operate, so that they will not let their accounts become delinquent, thereby damaging their credit standing. So many people, you know, thoughtlessly let bills become overdue. When they do this they find that their credit is shut off because bureaus act as clearing houses for all credit information, whether it is satisfactory or not."

In Pennsylvania, Mr. Buckeridge explained, there are now 39 credit bureaus in operation, with five more now in the process of organization.

This morning all of the delegates registered. At noon today a social luncheon took place in the dining room of The Castleton.

Afternoon Session

The session this afternoon was devoted to a general discussion of the bulletin published by each credit exchange, led by Ray F. Hall, manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange. This evening at 6:15, the convention will be the guests of the New Castle Credit organization at a dinner in The Castleton. As special guests the members of the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs have been invited to the affair.

At the banquet, James D. Hays, manager of the Harrisburg Bureau, vice president of the state association, and state chairman to the National Retail Credit Association will speak on credit as it applies to the retail merchants. His speech will be followed by a showing of the motion picture, "The Fair of the Iron Horse," through the courtesy of the local office of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and music by the Penn Ohio System orchestra.

Among those in attendance at the convention are W. A. Bush of Greensburg, E. Rockwell of Wellsboro, Agnes M. Formet of Erie, A. H. Adolph of Wilkes-Barre, E. H. Ward of Uniontown, W. J. Harris of Johnstown, W. R. Wakefield of Norristown, W. L. Daniels of Lewistown, J. E. Corn of Altoona, E. J. Smutz of Connellsville, W. W. Ankrom of Waynesburg, Robert Cowan of Philadelphia, E. O. Buckridge of Pittsburgh, president of the state association; James D. Hays of Harrisburg, and Ray F. Shores of Moosehead had been combed but only the overcoats and sweater of the men together with a piece of the boat were found— these off Sandbar Island. Lakemen said that because of the coldness of the water, which was nearly 100 feet deep where the motorboat capsized, it was not expected that the bodies would come to the surface for ten or fifteen days.

Wind of gale force swept the lake today, making grappling impossible for the present. The sheriff and his searchers in their motor boat were tossed about by the waves as they rode down the lake.

The cause of the sinking of the motorboat remained undetermined.

HOOVER ASSURED OF PENNSYLVANIA DELEGATE VOTES

And that is a very remote possibility, not only in Mr. Mellon's opinion, but in the opinion of every politician in Washington.

Mellon Favors Hoover

Mr. Mellon has had numerous callers since he returned to the capital. To them he has explained that with President Coolidge out of it he doesn't believe the Kansas City convention can logically go to any other man than Hoover. He considers that the party must go to the country in the approaching campaign on the record of the Coolidge administration, and he believes it would be entirely illogical for the convention to nominate a candidate who has disagreed with Coolidge policies as have both Lowden and Dawes.

The defeatist talk of the anti-Hoover allies hasn't impressed Mr. Mellon much. In discussing this phase of the campaign Mr. Mellon sagely observed that in the heat of a pre-convention fight there were usually harsh words and dissension, but that opposition usually evaporates after the convention. It was true of the Garfield campaign, he observed, and he believes it will be true of the approaching campaign.

bed. It was several hours before he was able to take off.

When the plane carrying General Fechet arrived at Pictou, the general learned that Capt. Eaker's plane had been forced down in a field thirty miles away near Tatamagouche. Capt. Eaker sent word that although he could procure fuel easily, he would not attempt to fly to Pictou until this morning.

Lieutenant Muir Fairchild, originally pilot of General Fechet's plane, is now at a hotel in St. John, after suffering an attack of appendicitis. He will be taken to Boston in a third army plane as soon as his condition permits. Lieutenant Quesada came from Washington to take Fairchild's place.

Two Alarms Of Fire Answered Tuesday

Firemen were called upon to answer two fire alarms Monday afternoon and evening. The first of these alarms was turned in from box 17. They found that there had been a short circuit in the wiring of a touring car belonging to Russell Williams on S. Jefferson street, near the bridge. The owner of the car had the blaze out when the firemen arrived. The loss was about $25.

The second of the alarms was received at 11:30 last night and called the firemen to 122 South Beaver St., where a fence and chicken coop were on fire. The loss was about $25. It is believed that some person threw a cigaret on some sawdust in the coop earlier in the day and that this caused the fire.

There's a bright side. The cynical hard-boiled flapper never will be anybody's mother-in-law.

ANNUAL MEETING FOR WOMAN'S CLUB MONDAY

The Woman's club of New Castle had their annual business meeting in the Highland U. P. church Monday afternoon, when all reports of the departments and committees were given.

It was decided to meet next year at 2:30 p. m. instead of 3 o'clock as has been the custom heretofore.

Money was voted to the Girl Scout council, Neighborhood House and two children will be sent to the Fresh Air camp at East Brook for one week this summer.

The hospital committee had the most appealing report of the afternoon. This committee functions so quietly that no one knows anything of the work done until the annual report is given. Mrs. C. W. Fenton is the chairman and she has divided the committee into two parts, two ladies each week visiting the Almira Home, the county home and the two hospitals. Magazines are always taken. At Christmas baskets decorated and filled with fruits, shirts, underwear, hose and sweaters are given out. Toys, candies and paper dolls are taken the children. Four children on leaving the Shenango Valley hospital were provided with underwear, hose and sweaters. One little crippled boy, who has been in the hospital a long time is taken by machine to Sunday school every Sunday. Three crippled children were taken to the airport to see the airplanes.

The committee visiting the Almira Home has taken clothing, flowers for the sick, cookies, pies and on New Year's eve a treat of oysters. Valentine Day was celebrated by packages of cookies and candy. In April a musical with readings was held.

The county home was well cared for by fruits, magazines, etc., and a set of bedroom furniture.

The departments all had fine reports, showing much hard work on the part of the chairmen and members.

In two weeks there will be a "tea" at the home of Mrs. E. B. Russell, "Eastover", New Wilmington. A transportation committee was announced by the president. All those members having machines will please call Mrs. E. F. Connelly at 1358 or Mrs. F. W. Wallace at 2109-M and signify their willingness to take out the club members who have no way of going and those members desiring transportation will please call the same numbers.

PENNSYLVANIA IS FOR HERBERT HOOVER

RECENT conference at Philadelphia of the delegates chosen at the recent primaries to represent Pennsylvania Republicans at the coming National Convention was for the purpose of organization.

In Washington the newspaper correspondents have been greatly puzzled by the attitude of Andrew W. Mellon. They now know—everybody knows—where he stands. He said to the delegates who had made him chairman: "We hear much talk of the various candidates and their policies. Among them all Mr. Hoover seems to come closest to the standard that we have set for his high office."

Since Mr. Mellon's views coincide with those of the bulk of the delegates in this respect, there is little doubt as to the position they will assume in the convention. Pennsylvania may be counted upon with every confidence by the friends of the secretary of commerce.

Mr. Mellon is a citizen of Pennsylvania who is admired and respected for his great abilities. As secretary of the treasury he has performed miracles. Did he have aspirations to succeed President Coolidge, the delegation would be delighted to support him. But he has none. With no desire to contest the nomination on his own behalf, therefore, he has most wisely declined to permit any movement designed to thrust him into the favorite son class. He is too big a man to need or be flattered by such honors. Besides, such a plan would merely afford aid and comfort for political schemers who have been trying hard to "stop Hoover." He could not afford to lend his name to any such proposition.

Secretary Mellon is not a plotting politician and not versed in the ways of the tribe. He will head the delegation as its chairman and he may be trusted to see to it that there will be no shady work in the convention caucus. Save for the few who were elected as out-and-out Hoover supporters, the delegates were not instructed at the primaries. But the interchange of views at the Saturday meeting made it evident that a large proportion of them are outspoken advocates of Hoover.

DELIVERING THE MAILS BY AIRSHIP

LANDING of the non-rigid Army dirigible balloon TC-5 on the stern of a passenger ship at sea a few days since has rounded out the efficiency record of aircraft in the field of ship-to-shore transportation.

Airplanes have landed on the decks of ships, seaplanes have landed beside them, the rigid dirigible Los Angeles has landed on a ship's deck and has taken on fuel, passengers and general supplies, and now a "blimp" has lifted mail at sea. Innumerable airplanes and airships, of course, have taken off from the decks of ships of all kinds ranging from a submarine to an ocean liner.

From the efficiency standpoint it would have been sufficient to drive the TC-5 slowly over the steamship, lower a rope and haul up mail or any other burden which it was desired to transfer. But the mooring of the airship on the stern of the American Trader was a difficult and spectacular feat and has a significance far beyond the mere lifting of a mail bag. These small airships are very adaptable and many were towed by destroyers and cruisers as observation craft during the World War. They may yet find an important field for service in commercial aeronautics.

UNDERGROUND WEALTH

MEN who have studied the world's mineral resources agree that the extraordinary increase in the consumption of coal, iron and other minerals will produce new political arrangements between nations in the future as in the past.

At present there is a deal of hypocrisy on the part of governments with relation to the exploitation of mineral resources by their nationals. Throughout the world, as the demand for minerals increases, the relations between nations with large supplies and those with large demands will undergo changes.

The world little appreciates the part played by minerals in modern civilization. Obvious as it is that this is an age of steel, it is difficult to visualize the enormous advance in production and consumption of the principal metals within the last few decades.

When the late Brooks Adams thirty years ago developed his theory that there is a direct relation between the control of large supplies of metals and the preponderance of world power he was considered an academic speculator. His prophecy that the United States, owing to the development of its coal and iron deposits, was destined to become the most influential nation in world affairs, was ignored. The enormous wealth of the American continent in the essential bulk materials has given to the United States the opportunity of loading in industrial development and political guidance of the world.

America's present prosperity and strength are due not so much to the fortunes made during the World War as to the rapid development of its natural resources and their utilization in such a manner as to derive from them the largest possible amount of power.

A man seldom considers his experience worth all it cost.

ELIZABETH HALE BACK AGAIN

The Willows, May 12, 1928.
Mr. Frederick L. Rentz,
Manager of The New Castle News,
New Castle, Pennsylvania.
My Dear Mr. Rentz:

Having just returned from an extensive tour abroad, I have naturally been exceedingly busy in catching up on my correspondence, and such other matters as inevitably accumulated during one's protracted absence, nevertheless I was much struck by an article in your "Hints and Dints" column of yesterday, written by Mr. Joseph Bulger, which was called to my attention by my secretary this morning. So much has it arrested my attention, that I am taking these few moments to write you with respect to some statements which must not be permitted to pass un-noticed.

You are quite likely aware that I had come to have a very high regard for Mr. Bulger, as I am sure, that on numerous occasions, I have so expressed myself, to you and to others, because if one is able to read between the lines of his gentle satire, however crudely expressed, one may discern, here and there, some sound human philosophy and an uncanny knowledge of the motives which move people to act as they sometimes do. All of which one may read, if he can grasp it, and profit thereby.

Nevertheless my attention has been arrested by the implication in Mr. Bulger's letter, that women having entered politics, have not added the expected strength to the several movements, because like the men, they have been detected in political misdeeds, in numerous instances. It is of course true, as Mr. Bulger points out, that in Pittsburgh recently about 80 election boards were indicted, among whom were a large percentage of my sex. It is true that only yesterday, in Pittsburgh, the public press announced the exposure of an additional large number of such incidents, in which about thirty per cent were of the same sex.

But I ask you in all fairness, if it is equitable and just, that a double standard be longer permitted to exist in a land where political equality is presumed to have been established?

Do you, or anyone else, seriously question that for generations men have been in politics for mercenary purposes only? Do you think that with this hereditary instinct behind them, a part, as it were, of their very natures, men would over night, change their spots? Not at all. Mr. Bulger, with his clear insight into human nature, surely knows better, even though you, Mr. Rentz, may not. Mr. Bulger, I am sure, is not troubled with the same blind faith in the integrity of the human race, nor is he so much moved by the insipid adulations of the mob, as perhaps are you. That is to say, I think that Mr. Bulger takes life more seriously than you do Mr. Rentz, but he gets more fun out of it, if you grasp my meaning.

However, to get back to the discussion, the point which I am making, is that women being new in politics have still much to learn, and must not be too unduly criticized, if here and there some instances crop out where as Mr. Bulger states, they are caught.

In this land of political equality, I hold that women are legitimately entitled to get out of public offices just what the men do.

I have for the past two years, been actively engaged in Mexico, in establishing chapters of the W. C. T. B., all with the purpose of perfecting a strong political unity among the women of that country, so that upon the final completion of a strong enough organization, we may step into the political saddle, and obtain our just share of the spoils.

We decided on Mexico, because intensive investigations in the field, seemed to demonstrate that in that country existed the largest opportunity in the political world, to accomplish in the shortest time what we have in mind.

Just as soon as I have straightened out my personal affairs I expect to engage in a speaking tour with the purpose of acquainting the public with the proper view point relative to women in politics, and if I have not made myself clear to you in this short note, I would be glad to call at your office, and correct any misapprehension which may exist.

I would also be agreeable to meeting Mr. Bulger, perhaps at a dinner, at which time we might discuss the situation and change his view point. I would be glad also, to exchange views with any other interested citizens along the same lines.

Very sincerely,
Mary Elizabeth Hale.

Well, Ruth was passing handbills from an airplane in New Orleans and she was arrested for it because they do not allow the passing of handbills in New Orleans. We have watched this piece of printing with considerable interest since it was started, and we are pleased to note that each year it gets better and better from an artistic printing standpoint. When it is known that the type is set by boys who know nothing about printing except that which they are given in the print shop it is all the more wonderful. And that's not all. All the printing needed for the entire school district of New Castle is done in this print shop. The head of the print shop is Jacob A. To Chain the Chain Stores.

Secretary Mellon says, referring to the Presidency, "Mr. Hoover seems to come closest to the standard that we have set for this high office."

Those few words have caused political talk to boil over. Mr. Mellon controls the Pennsylvania delegation that could make Hoover's nomination practically certain.

Mr. Mellon, one of the men best suited for the Presidency, one that would have had enthusiastic support, seems to withdraw his own name from consideration. Millions will regret this.

No man has a following greater than Mr. Mellon's, among serious American business men. His Hoover indorsement will kill off much hostility to Hoover among certain Wall street men. Their standard is money. Mellon has it—Ten and a hundred times what the average "Rich Mellon critic" has.

They will conclude that Hoover is good enough for them, if good enough for Mellon.

Some, that do not know Mr. Mellon, will call his statement the first step toward a seat on the Hoover band wagon. Mr. Mellon needs no man's good will, or assistance.

Close friends that know how earnestly Mellon hoped for Coolidge's acceptance of a second election, will conclude that he has abandoned that hope. President Coolidge would have been his first choice.

Republican victory Mr. Mellon takes for granted and Gov. Smith, who does not decive himself, knows that it will not be easy to beat prosperity, and seven million plurality.

Some that planned to beat Hoover with a combination "at the proper moment" seem to have let that moment slip by. It is hard to turn an avalanche, as Gov. Smith's opponents know.

HOOVER AND SMITH is a reasonably safe answer to the political question of the day.

Monday was Joan of Arc's Day, and representative of those most active in burning her alive made the greatest fuss over her, now that she is a memory.

Flowers decorate Fremiet's poor Statue of Joan in the Rue de Rivoli. And French Royalists take possession of her memory, forgetting how the miserable French King left her to be murdered.

Government investigates chain stores to protect small "independent merchants."

No plan to discourage useful efficiency in favor of the other thing will go far.

It is alleged that chain stores "take money out of the community." Big automobile makers do that also, and packers, millers, readymade clothing men.

The important community in THE UNITED STATES. Whatever is good for THE UNITED STATES is good for each community. Efficient retailing means a more valuable dollar and greater REAL prosperity.

John J. Raskob, boss of General Motors' finances, returns on the Italian ship Roma as optimistic as a robin after a shower. Showers bring the worms to the surface.

He says there is no danger of automobile overproduction, and there is none, if you make the right car at the right price. Yearly replacement, says Mr. Raskob, calls for 5,000,000 new cars, which confirms Henry Ford's estimate.

The country has 24,000,000 cars in use now, and ought to have 40,000,000 to make this a nation of "two-car families."

With only 25,000,000 cars in use and only 5,000,000 new cars a year each car would have to run five years.

High-spirited Americans, making and spending rapidly, could not stand that slow pace. As well expect an American woman to let a hat last five years.

How little the Chinese worried about the war. How little our so-called civilization frets as it reads, "Waves of Chinese mowed down by Japanese machine guns," or "Japanese rained shells two days on Chinese before expelling them from Tsinan."

Japan will establish a sort of Asiatic Monroe Doctrine, and run it. Also she will get what she wants. One thing she wants is no Communism. Bolshevism or other antic-capitalistic frenzy in China. And Europe's great nations that want money from Chinese trade will say:

"Heaven bless you, Japan, go ahead"

What about the League of Nations? That is supposed to prevent only wars that the big leaguers don't want.

Poor old Job's prosperity depended on the numbers of camels, sheep and asses he owned.

Russian wealth varied with the number of horses and serfs. Our wealth varies with the amount of electric power used.

When you read that last month 1 per cent more power was used than the month before, and 2.2 per cent more than in April, 1927, you know that the country is going ahead.

The South, that once depended on slave power, now pushes ahead with electricity and steam for slaves. That is better and more profitable.

Democratic freedom from campaign fund scandals may be a result of righteousness but a drunk sailor couldn't be prodigal if he had only two bits.

What is the difference where the proposition comes from! It may come from a bootblack, a prime minister, a most learned professor, or a bughouse lunatic.

The main question is, is it sensible?

There is probably no other thing wanted by so many people in this world today as that we shall have no more war. Curiously enough, the efforts are going on in every country to prepare for war, and at the same time probably nine-tenths of the population of every country loathe and despise war.

The effect of the last war was to impress upon the world the filth, horror, stupidity and uselessness of an armed conflict.

The day has gone when some big bully nation can start out to conquer other nations, as France did in the days of Napoleon, or Greece did in the days of Alexander, or Rome did in the days of Caesar, and get away with it.

There is one thing that invariably stops such a nation; that is the combination that rises against it.

Combination is the one enemy that no warring nation can overcome.

It was combination that was sought in Woodrow Wilson's plan for a League of Nations. That league up to date has been so tied up with prejudices and passions and petty na-

LUCK

Let cynics talk and poets prate,
And preachers sermonize,
There's but one roadway for the great,
One pathway for the wise.
Despite the luck that's good or ill,
One gets nowhere by standing still.

Who would have wisdom books must read,
The skillful hand must toil,
Who looks for flowers must plant the seed
And dig and rake the soil,
And who would have a decent name
Must keep himself from deeds of shame.

Though some inherit lands and gold,
And fortunate are they,
They still must work their wealth to hold
Or it will get away.
Bad luck or good luck never found
Those talents buried in the ground.

The fish are caught within the sea
And never on the shore,
A poor man he will always be
Who never tries for more.
This truth exists and always will:
One gets nowhere by standing still.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HE MAY BE RIGHT

Count Keyserling may be right and this be a Matriarchal Nation. Take Base Ball, for instance, it is not the game it used to be because women are withdrawing their support.

One of the sports writers had published a story to show that the decline in baseball is due to a dearth of back lots. His explanation covers only the larger cities and towns. The truth is that the "dear old game" on which young America grew to age and the exercise of male suffrage, back in the man-governed Victorian period is not holding its own even among amateurs in the village population.

The reason seems to be that the game is not popular with women. That may still be an amusing idea to one who has not come in contract as a "wet" with a ladies organization that is "dry."

Today women row, hunt, play polo, golf and tennis, shoot, fish and climb mountains with men, according to their tastes, and the popularity of these several sports just about coincides with women's liking for them, either as participants or as spectators, patronesses, and kind nurses in the event of an accident. Even football is dependent upon them for at least a third of its revenues, and for a great deal of the heroism that is credited simply to Alma Mater or in the case of Yale to the well known Eli trinity.

Sport looks to women today; and no form of it flourishes without their support. Yes, even the prize ring, in those states where it is permitted, is one of the secret delights of our gladiator-worshiping ladies. If they cannot all see the bouts, they do all know who is champion; but just ask them who is the best pitcher, the champion billiard player, the secretary of commerce, the chief of police, or the highest score man in quoits and see how much interest they take.

The "National Game", as its press agents with some justification once called it, is petering out in amateur circles for want of support by women. Young girls would rather play golf or tennis, go swimming, or "take a ride" than watch their friends play baseball.

Baseball is a good game, a game in which infinite skill may be developed in catching, pitching, hitting, running and sliding; but because that personal interest is lacking which playing a game gives, and because there are no such physical hazards incurred as in football, steeplechasing and boxing, the sex, called "the gentler" by Victorian writers, is not enthusiastic.

As time goes by, this waning of interest in amateur baseball will be reflected in professional. Men who have never played the game will not be so prone to watch it.

The time is not too late now, however, for the business managers of baseball to act. They should start out to arouse the patriotic and emotional enthusiasm of modern women.

It is suggested that they first devote their attention to those women's societies which have been "patriotically-minded" enough to devote themselves to the study of race eugenics and to the preservation of the original American stock by agitation for immigration laws. Though baseball does not appeal to women as a game, they cannot in their organized, civic and patriotic capacities shirk their duty by failing to defend our "National Game" with its traditional Americanisms of peanuts, warm pop and popular demonstrations against tyranny personified in the umpire. But only through their energetic support may the leather-bound ball and willow bat be preserved from joining the flintlock and powderhorn as museum exhibits of early American utensils."

Carry the news to "Babe" Ruth.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

SPEAKING OF JUSTICE

There has been a good deal of talk, in print and out of print, about the failure of justice to make itself manifest in American courts of late. I have heard this conversation as long as I can remember, revived every time there is a noteworthy miscarriage of justice in our courts. Of course, when there is a series of noteworthy miscarriages of justice, the talk becomes more general and more loud.

There are bold statements that the jury system has broken down, that it is impossible to send a rich man to prison, that we are on the slide for the bow-wows, and won't come back.

Those who have been reading my remarks in this space from day to day will realize that what I say about this situation is altogether consonant with what I have said repeatedly in this space about human justice.

The trouble is that the critical public expects too much of our system of jurisprudence. The critics are shocked when there is a notable instance of injustice in our courts. But they are not overjoyed and exhilirated when there is a notable case in which strict justice is meted out.

The critics fail to recognize the fact that human justice is characteristically weak. A sense of justice, being a very complicated disease, is possessed by highly civilized humans only. And none of us is so highly civilized as yet that we know very much about pure justice. We are doing our best, and it is really surprising how well our courts and juries do, on the average. But of course injustice is frequently done. Our judges and juries are seldom corrupt. But they are always human.

I have been reading a book called "Historical Trials," by the late Sir John MacDowell, once Senior Master of the Supreme Court of Judicature, in England. MacDowell, in a series of lectures to Oxford students, reviews and analyzes the trials of Mary, Queen of Scots; Socrates, the philosopher; Galileo, the astronomer; Joan of Arc and several others.

When you have read a lawyer's description of these famous trials of other days, you immediately conclude that our system of jurisprudence is not so bad. Corruption, violent prejudice, superstition, envy and avarice were regular characteristics of judges, kings and potentates concerned in those notable trials. And the world called itself civilized in those days, too! You may get discouraged with our system sometimes, but believe me, it is the best mankind has had up to this date.

White Explains Way To Select Police Officers

Presents Opinion To Councilmen Concerning Civil Service Law

MAYOR RECOMMENDS ONE OF FIRST THREE

During the past week the proper method of appointing policemen to the city police department was questioned during council session, and pending a decision by Solicitor White an appointment to fill one of the vacancies was delayed.

Monday Solicitor White submitted an opinion to council, which follows:

May 14, A. D., 1928.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Council of the City of New Castle, Pa.:

Gentlemen:

I am submitting herewith an opinion as to the proper procedure for appointment of policemen according to the Acts of Assembly.

Whenever there is a vacancy on the police force the Council shall make written application to the President of the Civil Service Board, who shall forthwith certify to the City Council, in writing, the first three names on the list of applicants for positions in the Police Department.

When this list is submitted to Council, the Mayor shall then recommend the name of one person from the list to fill the vacancy. Council shall then vote upon the acceptance or rejection of the recommendation. If the first man is accepted the list comes back incomplete and Council must then ask for a new list; if, however, the first man is rejected, the Mayor must then recommend one of the two remaining men and if the second recommendation is rejected the Mayor must then submit the third name. The Council might then reject the third man if it desires.

This was the procedure as provided for by the Act of 1917 and it offered some difficulty because very often Councils were not willing to accept the name of certain policemen, so that his name would be repeated until some other man came up whose name would not be accepted, and then there would be two such names constantly coming back and finally the Board would be sending back to Council each time the same list, so that in 1921 the Legislature added a provision to the Act that if any names of applicants shall be submitted to the said Council and shall be rejected three times by the said Council, then such names shall be stricken from the eligible list.

Suppose, for example, that the board submits the names of A, B and C, and Council rejects A but accepts B; a new list is called for and comes back with the names of A, C and D on it; A is again rejected and C is accepted; and the third list comes back with the names of A, D and E on it; if this time A is rejected the list must come back, but A is then dropped by the Board from the eligible list.

May 14th, A. D., 1928.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Council of the City of New Castle, Pa.:

The question then arrises whether or not Council must accept one of the three persons submitted by the Board whether it wants to or not. There is nothing in any of the Acts of Assembly that could be so construed, but no person can be dropped from the eligible list by being voted on and rejected three times on the same list, and before the Council can ask for a new list of names it must either accept one of the applicants or vote on them all. Of course, if it happened that a whole list was rejected, the next list that would come from the Board would be the very same and I am of the opinion that the same list could be entirely rejected three times in succession and that then the names of all of the men on that list would be off the eligible list.

I refer you to the Act of 1921, P. L., 1068, which is quite clear in its terms.

Of course, there is always a possibility that when a man has been rejected once you may be able to get him to withdraw his name from the eligible list voluntarily.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) ROBERT WHITE,
City Solicitor.

Konjola Gave Her New Feelings Of Glorious Health

This Local Lady Tells How Ne Medicine Ended Rundown Condition of Entire System.

MRS. CLARA MAJORS
Seavy Photo.

This surprising new medical compound, Konjola, is entering more homes in and around New Castle every day, until one out of every three families know about this celebrated medicine and reports are constantly being received from those who have been benefited by this famous remedy.

Konjola has produced permanent relief in thousands of cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowels disorders where the suffering had been going on for years. The action of this new herbal preparation has astounded the drug and medical trades of New Castle as well as the public in general.

Among the latest to publicly indorse Konjola is Mrs. Clara Majors, 1202 School street, this city. Mrs. Majors made the following statement to the Konjola Man who is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, New Castle, where hundreds of bottles of this medicine are being sold every week and where the Konjola Man is daily explaining how this compound reacts on the inner-system.

"Since taking Konjola I am free of every health trouble that I ever suffered from" said Mrs. Majors. "I am sure there is not a better medicine in the drug stores today to build up a completely rundown system.

"I have never been able to find out what made my condition so rundown. It seemed to me that the least exertion would completely tire me out. I steadily lost weight and was down to ninety pounds. All day long I would have awful backaches. Whenever I stooped over it was almost impossible for me to straighten up. I had no appetite and the food I did eat would not nourish me the way it should. My kidneys troubled me a great deal and I was subject to constant night rising. Of course, I could not sleep very well and in the morning I felt almost as tired as if I had not been to bed at all. Then my liver became sluggish and torpid. This caused me to have spots before my eyes and dizzy spells. It was very hard for me to do my housework and as I continued I got worse and was very discouraged.

"In this condition I began taking Konjola and the change that came over me was a great surprise to myself and my friends. Every day I could feel myself growing stronger and I began to take more interest in the things that went on around me. It seemed that every dose had a healing effect on my system. I began to gain in weight and before the first two bottles were gone I put on eight pounds. All the headaches and backaches completely disappeared, and have never returned. My appetite has increased and I can now enjoy a meal and know that I will get the proper nourishment from it. My liver and kidneys are normal and all the miseries from these organs have vanished.

"I will always give Konjola the highest praise and I am making this indorsement for the good it will do others."

IMPROVING THE BODY

Those who think the race is going backward ought to be interested in this news. In 1914 there were only 1848 students in various schools preparing to teach physical education. In 1927 there were about 12,000 preparing to be such teachers. In 1914 there were only 23 institutions training teachers of physical education and in 1927 there were more than 1,100.

That does not look like deterioration of the race.

QUIT ONE OR THE OTHER

If you are worrying about your job, or the people with whom you are associated in the office or shop, there is one of two things for you to do if you are going to keep your physical and mental health. You must either quit worrying or quit your job. If you can't beat the worrying game there are always other jobs. There is far more contentment in a little job without worry than in a big job that keeps you fretting.

BARBARIANS

The attitude of man in his games is the test of the distance he has travelled from barbarism. Some time ago an Iowa woman sued her husband for divorce. In the testimony she said he imposed "unheard of cruelties" on her on the golf course. He would kick her ball off the course everytime she made a good approach, she said, and especially would he do this when she reached the green in fewer strokes than he did.

Now, of course, it ought to be said that if she had been a very wise woman she would have taken care not to reach the green in fewer strokes than her husband. That was bad judgment and indicated a poor understanding of male psychology. Few men are bosses, but smart women let them think so.

But to go back to the principal subject of this paragraph, the man in this case, just as every man who does not play a game cleanly and fairly and cheerfully, indicates that he is not yet out of the barbarous stage.

It takes a great deal of the best brand of civilization to make a man into a good loser.

MILLIONS BOOKLESS

Growth in number and efficiency of public libraries in America is one of the happy signs of the times. And yet here are probably 50,000,000 persons in this country not reached by public libraries. There is opportunity for immense improvement in this field. Few of us think often enough of the great wisdom of the rich Scotchman, Andrew Carnegie, who put good books within the reach of hundreds of thousands in this country.

tionalisms that a combination has been impossible.

And now comes a voice of one crying in the wilderness, a voice from a nation almost everywhere discredited, snubbed and despised, a nation that is carrying on a vast and interesting experiment.

It is Russia. And Russia says to the assembled nations of the world what, after all, would be a very simple thing coming from any source. It is that the way to disarm is to disarm. The way to get rid of war is not to be ready for war.

It would seem that the commonsense of this proposal ought to appeal to everybody. On the contrary, it was almost universally met by amused smiles and tolerant shoulder shrugs. M. Litvinoff demanded an immediate debate on the Russian plan, which was to force immediate disarmament within four years. He said of the American proposal of Mr. Kellogg:

"The sincerity of that proposition could not be emphasized more persuasively than by adherance to the Soviet project for disarmament; not only with view to moral prohibition, but to destruction of the possibility of making war.

"As armed forces exist for no other purpose than to make war and as they would be perfectly useless were it prohibited, it would appear consistent and logical if the government in question supported our proposals."

This is cutting the Gordian knot with a vengeance. And while "practical" statesmen pooh-pooh it the gentleman up a tree or a Martian visiting this planet will wonder why in thunder the whole world does not immediately adopt the idea.

—a paint job that lasts

With these two partners—a skilled professional painter and pure lead paint—you can be sure of lasting and economical protection for your home against the weather.

HERE'S all you have to do. Select a skilled painter . . . experienced . . . the man who uses pure lead paint. For generations pure lead paint, such as he obtains with Dutch Boy white-lead, has been the standard for durability among the craftsmen of the painting profession.

Employing a skilled painter to apply Dutch Boy white-lead paint is real painting economy. Such paint spreads far, has great hiding power . . . lasts long . . . does not crack or scale. It saves money on repainting in future years . . . because it remains intact and smooth . . . does not require burning or scraping off—an expensive job.

The skilled painter is an established member of your community. He guards his reputation by doing first class work and using quality materials, like Dutch Boy white-lead. No fly-by-night painter can duplicate his work. Nor will he be a pure white-lead user.

By mixing Dutch Boy white-lead with linseed oil, the skilled painter produces a superior gloss paint for exterior painting. He mixes it with Dutch Boy flatting oil to make a flat paint for interiors which can be washed thoroughly and frequently without harming the paint film.

Dutch Boy white-lead, in either heavy paste or soft paste form, is sold by leading paint dealers.

Valley Forge Stamp To Be Issued Soon

Post Office To Issue Two-Cent In Commemoration Of Valley Forge

Word has been received at the local post office this morning that a Valley Forge Commemoration Stamp will be issued and placed on sale about May 26 in commemoration of the events of Valley Forge that happened 150 years ago.

The stamp will be of the 2-cent denomination and of the same size as the regular stamp and will be printed in red ink. The vignette will be composed of Washington kneeling in prayer. The words "U. S. Postage" will be found across the top of the stamp in a straight line, and beneath that the words "Valley Forge, 1778 1928". In the two lower corners will be the figure "2" connected with the word "Cents" on a panel. Above the panel will be the words, "In God we trust".

The stamps will be placed on sale at Valley Forge, Philadelphia, and neighboring post offices on May 26 as well as at Cleveland where an exhibition of stamp collectors will be held at that time. Other postmasters may secure a requisition.

Just to demonstrate how busy we have been with stern reality, it can be cited that a year has passed and failed to bring out a single new breakfast food.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

AUNT BUSY BODY!

With Peter to know a thing was to tell it!

"Hello, Oriole!" he hailed the bird on the branch so near him. "I mistook your voice for a stranger's, but I recognize your face as a friend's. I didn't know you had come back from your winter vacation—you always take such a long one. You'll have to change your coat if you ever fool me. The moment I saw that bit of 'flying gold', unexpected as you were, I knew it was you!"

Oriole, jolly bird that he was, winked a shiny eye.

"'Flying Gold'! That's a pretty name for me. I like it. Odd you didn't recognize ours as Oriole voices. Thought everybody could tell our twittering the instant one heard it. Yes, here we are, ready to begin another season. Came back four days ago and we've just finished the nest. It took us three days to make it. Poor little wife—she is all tuckered out.

"But it does seem good to be back at the old homestead again. We love it here in the orchard. Hope the season is a long one; we certainly shall not leave before the first leaf falls. Hello, I wonder what is up now! I hear wife talking to some one, and she seems quite excited. Excuse me for a moment. I must see what the matter is!"

Peter was every bit as anxious as Oriole himself to discover what all the fuss was about, for by now a great twittering was going on in the apple tree. A shrill voice Peter had not heard before piped out:

"It is all very well to believe in lady birds' rights, of course—I do myself—but it is carrying things altogether too far to expect to do your duty in the home and take an interest in the outside world at the same time.

"Only one other Oriole I ever heard of built a house with a window in it, and she placed it too high to do her any good. She couldn't look out while she was sitting on the eggs for the silly bird had built it too far above her head.

"But, like the good mother she was, she soon forgot about her high faluting notions to do two things at the same time in taking care of the children. How do you expect to do your duty by your babies if you have an eye on the orchard all day long. Your business is in the home, I say. Leave the other things to your husband, niece!"

A second voice that the boy recognized at once as belonging to Mrs. Oriole had been trying to get a word in edgewise for some time, and now at last succeeded.

"Now Aunt Busy-body, you are not a bit fair. Didn't I raise a brood last spring that was as healthy and as well behaved as any in Birdland? You shall see that I shall not neglect the children just because I am not cooped up in the dark with them all the day.

"Thank good I am up to date and can manage to do two things at once. You are behind the times, Auntie, that is what is the trouble with you."

Elephant With Circus Obeys Woman's Orders

Just one word from Miss Gussie Miller and "Mary" the 80-year old debutante with the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus does as told. "Mary" who has been trouping with the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus for many years is an exceptionally talented elephant, and the other members of the herd regard her as the leader.

When the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus comes here next Wednesday afternoon and night, "Mary" will show her version of the black bottom and also interpret the Argentine tango. Maybe she will do any old-fashioned waltz. However dancing is but one of the things that "Mary" does during the day. If you don't think she is a hard worker come to the Cedar street show grounds early Circus Day and observe how she assists in putting up the big show. Rev. McAllister Chief Speaker

Former Local Man To Make Address At County Convention Here

SUNDAY SCHOOL HOST TO GATHER

A splendid program is being prepared for the 90th convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association which is to be held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral Thursday, June 7, morning, afternoon and evening sessions.

At the morning session the convention sermon will be delivered by Rev. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, and the theme of the convention is: "The Way, the Truth and the Life".

In the morning there will also be an address by Dr. M. Hadwin Fisher, professor of religious education and English Bible at Gettysburg Seminary.

The inspirational address of the afternoon will be made by Rev. F. B. McAllister, pastor of the First Baptist church of Royal Oak, Mich., who formerly held a pastorate in this city and is well known and well loved by the Christian people of this city. Dr. Fischer will also make an address at the afternoon session and Rev. Edward H. Bonsall Jr., state young people's superintendent, will give an address on the theme, "The Challenge of Youth".

There will be no registration fee or charge in connection with the convention and the public is invited to be present. While delegates will be appointed from the various Sabbath schools, still it is not necessary to be appointed to attend. All that is necessary is to call at the Cathedral, register and you are a delegate. At the afternoon session it is desired that the women's adult classes sit together, and in the evening the men's adult classes will sit together. However, due to the seating capacity of the Cathedral, which is anticipated will be filled to overflowing, those attending will be taken care of as soon as they arrive and no seats will be reserved for very long.

Between the afternoon and evening sessions there will be a Christian Fellowship banquet for 1,200 of the Sabbath school leaders of the county. This will be a happy occasion and every Sabbath school will have an equal opportunity to be represented, as the superintendents have been written, giving them the number from their Sabbath school that will be accommodated. Superintendents are urged to take care of securing the quota right away and advise Mrs. William J. Marshall, county secretary, phone 3660M, so that tickets can be supplied. There will be short, snappy speeches, good singing and music and an excellent meal. A noonday lunch will also be served to visiting delegates.

John W. Owens will have charge of the music for the entire convention and a chorus choir such as was used at the state convention will again be used, this choir being made up from singers from all of the Sabbath schools of the county. The superintendents have been notified how many singers to be furnished.

The complete program of the convention will be presented in a later issue.

Inspecting Rural Mail Routes Now

Assistant Postmaster Has Only Two Routs Left For Inspection

James G. Leslie, assistant postmaster is making the annual inspection of rural mail routes, having only two more routes to inspect.

Mr. Leslie states that most of the patrons have complied with the regulations of the Post Office Department in having suitable boxes for receiving their mail, but that on each route he finds a few patrons to whom it is necessary to send notices to fix up their boxes in one way or other.

If the box does not reach the government requirements, a notice is sent by mail to the patron stating what is the matter with his box and he is given an opportunity to remedy it. If the patron fails to cooperate with the Department, and the post office officials find such action warrented, officials are instructed to discontinue service until the requirements are complied with.

Among the items that are included in the irregularities in mail boxes are, box not of approved type, no signal, broken lid, does not face road, leaky condition, box not level or post firmly planted, need of new post, box and support should be painted white with name inscribed on both sides of box in neat black letters about 1 inch in height, no door approach to box not properly filled or graded, too far from road, raised or lower many inches, not conveniently located, should be on right hand side of the road as traveled by the carrier.

Local officials state that the patrons in general have complied very well with the regulations but that notices are necessary for a few on each route. It is also stated that it may be necessary to withdraw service from a few patrons unless attention is given to the notices now being sent out.

They say that disconten is the greatest of all boons to humanity, but it will be wise not to repeat this to the man who has just eaten a rotten strawberry.—Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

Co-ed Athletes Are Recognized

Forty-Eight Are Given Awards At Westminster College On Monday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 15.—Recognition was given co-ed athletes of Westminster college yesterday morning when 48 of the women students of the college were given class numeral athletic awards at the chapel hour. Preparatory to the distribution of the numerals Jack Hulme, member of the college coaching staff gave a talk in which he explained the new system of awards. Dr. W. C. Each girl who played in half of the halves played by her class team in intra mural basketball competition received a numeral award with one star displayed on it, as also did the co-ed who played in one-half of the swimming and water polo meets. The Co-eds who participated in both basketball and swimming received the same numeral award except that it has two stars inscribed on it.

The new system further provided that those co-eds who excel in athletics for four or three years shall receive a gold emblem at the end of their senior year. Tennis is also to be added to the sports for which awards will be given.

The following members of the senior class received their class numerals: Florida Lindsay, Norah French, Margaret Sampson, Dorothy Hildebrand, Anna Munro, Helen Sankey and Muriel Irons.

In the junior class more of the girls won the award. They were: Phyllis Coley, Ruth McCormack, Mary Sowerby, Mildred Mankedick, Jane McKown, Mary Craig, Lois Wagoner, Anna Dickson, Margaret Patterson, Theda Hartwell, Margaret Leohner, Gladys Bebout., Doris Cook, Edna Short and Sara Hankey.

FEELS BETTER THAN IN MONTHS

This Young Man Suffered From Catarrh 5 Years; World's Tonic Brings Relief

"I feel better now than I have for months and all the symptoms of my troubles are gradually disappearing since I have been using World's Tonic, the systemic Catarrh Treatment," said a New Castle young man 33 years old, employed at Carnegie Steel Co.

"I suffered for five years. I thought it was stomach trouble, but now I believe it was nothing more or less than chronic catarrh of the stomach. Food lay like a lump of lead in my stomach. After meals there was always a lot of gas on my stomach and my heart fluttered. I was often short of breath, constipated, had headaches, was extremely nervous and my breath was foul. I lost weight right along.

"Stomach medicines did me no good, so finally I thought maybe my trouble was catarrh and I bought a bottle of World's Tonic and started using it. I am now on my third bottle All the trouble I had before is gradually leaving me. I'm gaining in weight and strength and feel better than for months."

Catarrh is serious. Start fighting it NOW. And fight it with a treatment made especially for catarrh—World's Tonic. At Paisley's, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all other good druggists. (264)

Dr. J. R. Cooper Gets New X-Ray Apparatus

Will Be Of Non-Interfering Type As Far As Radio Reception Is Concerned

Radio fans of the downtown district will be pleased to learn that one of the sources of annoyance in the reception of radio programs is about to be eleminated.

Dr. J. R. Cooper of North street, who is one of the pre-eminent users of X-Ray apparatus in this city, is having installed this week in place of his former apparatus, one of the largest and most modern types of X-Ray machines in this district.

The feature of the new apparatus is that it is so constructed and equipped that the excess current, which in the past has proven to be of considerable interference with radio fans in the reception of programs, is handled in such a manner, that it is absorbed by the apparatus and no longer escapes to annoy the radio apparatus.

Boys' Dormitory Nearly Complete

Finishing Touches To Be Placed On Browne Hall At Westminster

BIG CAFETERIA TO FEATURE BUILDING

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 15.—Announcement was made today that the position of cafeteria manager has been created at Westminster College for next year and that the college has appointed to this position C. H. Brown of the sales department of the George S. Daugherty Co. of Pittsburgh.

In addition to his duties as manager of the cafeteria in Robert Audley Browne hall, new men's residence, Mr. Brown accepts the responsibilities as buyer for the whole dining room system of the college, involving both dormitories and residences for men and women. Mr. Brown will assume his new duties on August 1.

Mr. Brown has had a long and varied experience in hotel and restaurant business. For several years he was owner and manager of the New Colonial Hotel in Meyersdale, Pa., and a partner in the Crystal Cafe. He has been an efficient member of the sales staff of the Daugherty Company for 18 years.

The new cafeteria manager and buyer will occupy living quarters in Robert Audley Browne hall and will maintain an office of manager on the first floor of the building.

The cafeteria, kitchen, storage rooms and refrigerating plants in the new men's dormitory will be most modern and complete in every way. The dining room will be finished with terrazzo floors in combinations of black, gold and gray colors.

A complete kitchen, including bake shop, electrical devices for toasting, grills, waffle irons and egg cookers, will make rapid preparation of food easy to manage. A battery of ranges, steamers, peelers, automatic bread slicers and other up-to-date machinery will also aid in handling the crowd of 150 students.

Built-in storage refrigerators for meat and vegetables will be kept cool with a two-ton electrical ice machine and refrigeration plant which will produce 300 pounds of ice every eight hours. Ice water will be pumped through the entire building so that students on any of the floors will be able to get cold drinking water at any time.

A complete butcher shop will adjoin the kitchen proper and the meat and vegetable storage rooms. Here meat cutting tables, a meat sink, fish box and other facilities will enable those in charge of the cafeteria to buy meat in bulk and cut as may be desired.

French doors leading from the lounge on the south end of the building lead to the spacious dining room. Here nearly 150 men students may be accommodated at each meal in cafeteria style. The room is to be finished in walnut. Tables and chairs are walnut finish with white glass tops, edged with blue. A blue "W" monogramed on the center of each table will give something of a collegiate atmosphere. The cafeteria counter tops and tables will all be of white glass and blue trimming.

The new dormitory is now almost completed. Workmen are busy putting on the finishing touches to the interior and it is thought that it will be completely furnished and equipped and ready for inspection at commencement time.

Changes Made By Bell Telephone Co.

C. R. Freehafer Becomes General Traffic Manager At Pittsburgh

C. R. FREEHAFER

Important changes in the official personnel of the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania were recently announced in Pittsburgh by F. J. Chesterman, vice-president and general manager of the company, it is stated at the local offices of the company.

Carl R. Freehafer, general traffic manager of Pittsburgh, becomes general commercial manager, succeeding C. E. Malley, who has been transferred to Philadelphia. William R. Brush, division traffic manager, Pittsburgh, will take the place of Mr. Freehafer as general traffic manager, and J. E. Murdoch succeeds Mr. Brush as division traffic manager.

All of these men are well known in New Castle having made many visits here during the past year.

Mr. Freehafer entered the service on the telephone company at Philadelphia in 1910. After holding many positions of responsibility, he was transferred to Pittsburgh in 1920 and was appointed general traffic manager in 1923.

Mr. Brush, the new general traffic manager, has been in telephone service for ten years, having started at Pittsburgh as traffic inspector. In 1923 he was appointed division traffic manager.

Tilesetters Will Start Partition Work At Hospital

Brick Work On Exterior Of Jameson Memorial Hospital Near Completion

While the actual work of building the interior partitions of the Jameson Memorial hospital, located on West Garfield avenue, has not started as yet, laborers have renewed their activities in piling tiles around the floors, in readiness for tilesetters to start work late this week, announces a representative of the Boldt Construction company of Cleveland, who are constructing the building.

Other work on the hospital is progressing rapidly. Bricklayers have the work of encasing the pent houses on top of the building almost completed. It is expected that by the end of the week, all of the brick work will be done. Stone is also being hauled up to the roof to be used on the solarium.

At the nurses home, other bricklayers have started to run up the walls. This will be rushed as fast as possible so that concreters can pour the second floor.

All of the rough plumbing and pipe fitting has been installed, as has the ventilating system and the electrical conduits.

Both Motorists And Pedestrians Should Respect Auto Danger

State Secretary Of Health Makes Plea For Safety For Children

An automobile danger-conscience must be developed in the motorist as well as the pedestrian before the amount of accidents are appreciatively reduced, according to Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

Race-track velocity is dangerous, even on a race track, but on city streets it is criminal. City highways are not speedways and the sooner the average driver realizes this fact and cuts down his extreme driving, just that soon will fatalities to pedestrians show a marked decrease.

On the other hand, it is not always the motorists's fault. Grown-ups and especially children are prone to dash into a street in an utterly careless manner. It is at a time like this that even machines under control get in their deadly work for they are not given a chance to do otherwise.

If the deliberate production of a fear complex is ever justified it becomes so with respect to the automobile's ability to hurt and slay. Safety to life and limb should be emphasized to the point that youngsters will be on guard against the reckless driver and even against the automobile that is entirely under control.

Dr. Appel says that health officials and doctors are doing much to favor the prolongation of the life of the young. But no amount of information or scientific prevention can argue with a car going 50 miles an hour on a city street when a child thoughtlessly runs into its path.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENE RUBINSTEIN
Noted Beauty Expert

The Lines of Your Face and Neck

Do you know the cause of lines? Age? No, not as a general rule.

I have told you that those with wrinkles and crowsfeet are suffering from the effects of neglect and not of years. Today I am going to try and explain just what lines come from.

Have you ever had your hands in water so long that the flesh of your fingers wrinkled in queer little folds? The water sensitizes the skin, the natural oils are extracted—the outer layer of tissue becomes puckered. The chances are that the sensation is so uncomfortable that you immediately rub a lotion into the fingers.

Now exactly the same thing happens in a greater degree when your face wrinkles. Washing and exposure to wind and weather are responsible. And instead of this exposure affecting only the outer layer of the skin, it affects all seven layers, for the resiliency and elasticity of the underlying tissues is injured, too. The skin, in short, suffers from malnutrition! There is not enough natural lubrication to feed these hungry areas and, as a consequence, the outer skin "puckers"—and there is no firmness underneath to act as a natural counteracting corrective.

Regular use of a rich herbal antiwrinkle cream will feed and lubricate the tissues; a chemical stimulant will invigorate the underlying areas activating the circulation and thus restore firmness and elasticity to the skin. The neck must receive the same care: heavy creams, cocoa butter or hot olive oil will help to fill out the lines and hollows. Deep breathing exercises are as effective as they are simple. A thin face and a long neck needs a short necklace to break those angular lines—three chain necklaces are good for this purpose and round necklines help to sustain the illusion. For fat necks, long necklaces, whether small or graduated beads; slender metal chains with pendants and "V" shaped outlines are to be generally selected.

Peter Pan collars are most becoming to the slightly round, youthful face. The wide, square cut Vionnet neckline is fatal to the large woman. Odd necklines are to be avoided unless you are both slender and pretty, in which case you may select almost at random and usually successfully. A style that is rather flattering to the well proportioned woman is the neckline which is cut to a V slightly on one side. This, as you can readily see, has a tendency to break the line of chest, neck and shoulder. Collars are flattering to almost every woman, and with the mode of the moment calling for dainty touches of lace and lingerie at the neck, it is to be hoped that women return to the charming simplicity of the very feminine neck frill.

Fichus are also flattering to the large woman. You can achieve wonderful results thru sponsoring the illusions which can be obtained thru necklaces, pendants and collars. A very little study will demonstrate your best effects.

Large Number Studying German After Replacing Of Study At Senior High

Nearly 65 students of the Senior High school are enrolled in the German class at that institution this semester, reports Principal Frank L. Orth.

"This is a remarkable number considering the fact that this is the first time German has been taught at the school since the opening of the World war," says Prof. Orth. Previous to that conflict a great number of students was studying this language.

The present class in German was started with the opening of the present semester in January. Since that time rapid strides have been made by the class, and it is probable that it will continue to hold its place in curriculum of the local institution.

Miss Mary Riffer, who was formerly an instructor in the school's history department, conducts the class. She was just recently re-elected to this position for next year by the board of education.

Circus Stops At Public Library

Librarians Erect Miniature Circus On Table In Children's Department

All night long engines puffed at the sidings, elephants grunted as they pushed wagons about and the thin laugh of camels was heard. Gnus and monkeys peered out of their cages. The circus has come to the city; and not only come to this city but to the New Castle Public Library where this morning the big top has been erected in the children's party.

And the parade is continually parading about the walls of the room. Camels, clowns, acrobats, strong men, fat women, thin women, magicians, all stand in front of their tents waiting for the crowds of children who will come to see them as soon as school is out this afternoon. On the table where the circus is holding out many stories of life in the sawdust ring are placed for children who love animals and circuses. According to Boss Canvasman Helen Minick who with her helpers erected the tents, it will remain at the library for the remainder of the week.

Falls Into Well, Is Seriously Injured

ROCHESTER, Pa., May 15.—Falling 40 feet into a well on his farm in Rochester township, Martin Goettman, 67 was badly hurt and narrowly escaped drowning. He is in the Rochester General hospital in a serious condition. Both of his legs were broken and he was badly bruised and cut. Goettman had started to clean the well. He stepped into a bucket by means of which he expected to descend when the rope broke and he fell into the water. His sons Ivan 40 and James 30, were nearby. James climbed down the iron pipe from the pump and held his father out of the water while Ivan brought assistance.

Final Arrangements For Consistory Dance Will Be Made At Cathedral

The Consistory Legion of Honor will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the Scottish Rite cathedral for the purpose of making final arrangements for the Consistory reunion dance, to take place Friday, May 18, in the main ball room of the cathedral, announces Captain Melvin L. Craig, a member of the Legion of Honor.

The Consistory Legion of Honor is organized to promote good fellowship among the members and to serve the New Castle Consistory in such a manner as shall be determined by the Legion of Honor and its Cammander in Chief. All members of the Legion and eligible members of the Consistory are urged to be present at the meeting this evening as there is important business to be taken up before the opening of the Consistory spring reunion. The various dance committees have been working on their part of the program for the past two weeks and from all reports the dance Friday evening will be a big event of the year.

BOY SCOUT Activities

BOY SCOUT BAND

The Boy Scout band went to Ellwood City Saturday afternoon to parade for publicity purposes in connection with the Community Chest drive at Ellwood. The scouts, 26 in number, made a very splendid appearance with their new neckerchiefs and musicians' insignia. Harry Truschel, bandmaster, was assisted by Ralph F. David and Fred D. Wilkes. Motion pictures of the scouts were taken at the city stadium. Several selections were played by the scouts and were enjoyed by the listeners.

WANTS TO TELL PUBLIC HOW IT BENEFITED HIM

Well-Known Man Claims Ten Herbs Ended Awful Liver And Stomach Trouble.

"Words cannot express how grateful I feel for the great benefits Ten Herbs gave me, and I want everyone to know what a wonderful medicine it is," was the statement of Mr. Lank G. Fennell, well known and highly respected citizen of Butler, Pa., living in Fairview Avenue Extension, that city, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural preparation. Mr. Fennell comes from one of the oldest families of Butler county. The town of Fennellton, in this county, was named after his grandfather, on whose farm part of the town was built.

"I was in poor health the past two years," continued Mr. Fennell, who is fireman for the Valvo-Line-Oil Refining Co., East Butler. "Liver trouble caused me to have dizzy spells and black spots before my eyes. I felt as tired in the morning as when I went to bed, and had no ambition whatever. Gas formed on my stomach, and I had no appetite. I had pains in the pit of my stomach, between my shoulders, and across my kidneys. Twice I had such terrible pains in my stomach that, after being given first aid at the plant, I had to be brought home. I was getting thinner and weaker every day, and could hardly work.

"I tried several kinds of medicines but kept getting worse until I began using Ten Herbs. I got relief after taking about three-quarters of the first bottle. I felt my old ambition coming back, and my head began to clear up. Now all soreness and pains are gone, and my stomach and liver are in good condition. I sleep well and feel fine upon arising. My appetite is good and I am gaining weight and strength every day. Friends notice how much better I look, and the other day my two daughters remarked to their mother that now I laugh and joke like I did two years ago. I am on my third bottle, and my wife and children also are taking Ten Herbs."

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Retail Grocers Hold Interesting Event

Affair Is Very Largely Attended And Proves Most Enjoyable

Monday evening in the Knights of Malta hall on East Washington street, the New Castle Retail Grocer's association held one of the most successful meetings in a long time. The event was largely attended and the program presented was excellent and thoroughly enjoyed.

Featuring the evening was the lecture illustrated by motion pictures of the H. J. Heinz canning industry from the time the seed is planted until it reaches the table.

The music of the evening was furnished by the orchestra of the Simpson M. E. church. The program presented in addition to the lecture and pictures follows:

Music—the orchestra; saw solo—Watt Matthews; Whistling solo—Mrs. H. Davis; recitation—Miss Alex. Colchiski; music—the orchestra; clarinet solo—H. Davis; saw solo—Watt Matthews; music—the orchestra.

At the conclusion of the program, a luncheon made up of Heinz products was served, consisting of baked beans with pork and tomato sauce, cooked spaghetti, peanut butter sandwiches, fig pudding with whipped cream and coffee. James MacKenzie acted as toastmaster.

Then there will also be four or five boxing bouts with some of the best talent of the city participating. This will be followed by the smoker and a luncheon.

This program was arranged by Charles Ross and Rev. Fr. Patrick DiRanna with the assistance of Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, pastor of St. Vitus parish.

It is free to the three hundred members of the Holy Name society and also to any young man of the parish, who will sign a membership card on that evening. The only thing necessary for an eligible young man to attend is to accompany a young man who is already a member and who will act as his sponsor in becoming a member.

Hoover Expected To Gain Strength In Two Primaries

Anti-Hoover Forces Digging In For Protracted Fight At Kansas City

MELLON SWINGS TOWARD HOOVER

Hoover Likely To Enter Convention With Over 400 Pledged Delegates

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Hard hit by the apparent drift of Pennsylvania to the Hoover candidacy, the anti-Hoover allies were digging in today for a protracted and stubborn last-ditch fight to "stop" the secretary of commerce at Kansas City four weeks hence.

Their task has been made doubly difficult—perhaps impossible—by the apparent willingness of the Mellon machine in Pennsylvania to take Hoover if President Coolidge cannot be persuaded to stand again. Upon that nearly all the practical politicians of Washington were agreed today.

Adds Strength

Hoover's pledged and committed delegate strength is due to cross the 400 mark this week, not counting any votes from New York or Pennsylvania, whose combined strength is 169 in the convention. From this it is apparent that if New York should follow Pennsylvania into the Hoover camp the fight against Hoover at Kansas City becomes more or less an ideal gesture.

As of today, Hoover has approximately 367 committee delegates. New Jersey will add 31 in today's primary and on next Friday Oregon will fall into line with 13, pushing the Hoover total across the 400 line. In both these states Hoover has no opposition and the state leaders are for him. Their 44 votes go to him by default. Even half of New York's 90, coupled with Pennsylvania's 79, would put the cabinet candidate within a few votes of the necessary 545.

"Allies" Surprised

"The allies" were admittedly surprised and discomfited by Secretary Mellon's public pat on the back for the Hoover candidacy, but at that they managed to extract some small comfort from the manner in which it was done.

Secretary Mellon clearly revealed that he still has hopes of drafting President Coolidge, and the fact that he insisted that Pennsylvania's powerful bloc go to Kansas City unpledged and uncommitted was regarded by the allies as a significant and favorable omen.

It is even possible that when Henry Ford gets back from Europe he will admit that some history, at least, is not bunk.—Providence Journal.

Nevada's Divorce Mill Quite Busy, Shown By Figures

Divorce Mill In Nevada More Than Doubled Its Output In 1927 Shown

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 15.—America's great divorce mill at Reno, Nev., more than doubled its output in 1927.

The courts of Washoe county terminated the wedded "bliss" of 1,603 couples. Census bureau figures announced today, showed that in 1926 only 753 divorces were granted at Reno.

According to population ratios one out of every 40 residents of Nevada obtained official separation during the year, while in 1926 the proportion was one out of 77. The ratio for Reno was vastly higher.

Plans Progress For Roof Garden

Roof Of Cathedral Will Be Opened About The Middle Of June, Says Pears

When the plans of Herbert Pears, manager of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, materializes, New Castle will have one of the best roof gardens in the western part of the state at the cathedral. All plans are going forward, and from present indications the roof will be opened about the middle of June.

At the present time, Mr. Pears is getting prices on decorations for the roof. All of the lattice work will be painted and the floor will again be finished for dancing.

"What we will do at the roof," says Mr. Pears, "is this: We expect to have dances about three times a week. Everything will be run cabaret style: there will be a small cover charge, and food will be served at tables ranged along the walls. Only the best music and entertaining talent will be employed. In fact, it is the object of the association to give New Castle a quiet place where the citizens can go in the evening to enjoy themselves. Everything will be restrained, everything will be dignified, but we will promise evenings of clean fun."

The wets have a new name for the Statue of Liberty. They call it the Statue of Limitations.—Charlotte (N. C.) News.

Washday so easy for me now

Whiter clothes, too, with this hard-water soap

I'M all for Rinso, the granulated hard-water soap! It washes clothes so much whiter.

I think it's just wonderful the way dirt and stains float off in the thick Rinso suds. What lasting suds, even in the hard water we have here! Rinso asks no help of bar soaps, chips or water softeners. It makes the water soapy and sudsy all the way through.

Clothes come from the washer whiter than ever now that I use Rinso. The grimiest things need little or no rubbing. Why, even boiling isn't needed. No wonder 32,000 demonstrators of washing machines use Rinso! No wonder the makers of 32 leading washers endorse it!

I have a neighbor who uses Rinso for tub washing. She says it soaks out the dirt, and so saves scrubbing. Naturally clothes last longer, for they aren't scrubbed thin at the cuffs, collars and edges. Rinso saves the hands, too. I wouldn't be without it.

There's this Great Difference in Varnishes

100% PURE VARNISH

1 Varnish is either "pure" or "adulterated"—plainly speaking "highgrade" or "inferior." An adulterated, inferior varnish may look "almost as good" when first applied but soon goes to pieces under the constant wear to which varnish is subjected. Its tendency is to be brittle and flakey and to chip off and leave ugly white scratches at the slightest scuff. While the original cost of such varnish is usually "cheaper" it is far more expensive in the long run.

2 Pure, highgrade Varnish is made of Pure Vegetable Oils, Pure Fossil Gums, Pure Turpentine—no benzine—no rosin. The result is a durable and beautiful finish that will stand up under the hardest sort of wear. Due to the ability of such a varnish to withstand hard wear and extreme temperature changes it will not scratch, chip or mar. It spreads with greater ease and covers much more surface per gallon. It is far more economical in the long run.

Clarence W. Duff Writes Of His Experiences Going Into Southern Ethiopia

A most interesting letter has been received from Clarence W. Duff, one of a group of missionaries who is traveling into the interior of Southern Ethiopia to open up new missionary work. Mr. Duff is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Duff of near Enon Valley.

After a wait of more than nine weeks in the capital of Abyssinia the party finally received full permission to proceed into the interior for the establishing of a mission station. The party consisted of nine missionaries.

The caravan consisted of nearly 100 mules, a few horses, some 25 or 30 men. The goods carried include personal goods, food supplies, tents and beds, camp equipment, etc. About 60 mules are loaded with the goods as well as about 20 men with headloads. The missionaries have riding mules.

The day's program consists of rising at 4:30, breakfast, packing the goods and loading the mules and off at 6:00. Only a few hours are traveled each day, generally from 3 to 5 hours according to distance between streams where there is enough water for the caravan. Four or five hours over the trails that are not of the best are about all a mule with 150 pounds wishes to travel in a day, and he must have the afternoon to graze. It becomes so hot from 11:00 o'clock on that it is most too much to expect either mule or man to travel in the sun. But in the morning it is lovely and possible to make good time, probably from three to four miles an hour. About 9:30 a stop is generally made for a little lunch and a cup of tea.

The biggest part of the work comes when the camp is reached. There are tents to pitch, dirty faces to wash, and things to be made shipshape for the night. Soon after the tents are up, the native cook has the meal ready. Most of the food used must be obtained from the cans brought along, but all the eggs needed may be obtained as they move along and the caravan has practically lived on wild duck so far as meat is concerned. Occasionally someone shoots a guinea fowl. Milk is very hard to get, that is milk that is usable, but one of the boys goes out every day to try to get enough milk for porridge and coffee. If he watches the woman milk the cow and insists upon her milking directly into one of the vessels from the caravan instead into one of her own smoky gourds, coated thick with curdled milk and likely part full of water to begin with, he brings back milk that, when boiled, is quite safe to use.

Mr. Duff on inquiry of the kind of religious belief in the territory through which they passed found that the people were either Moslems or Christians of the Abyssinian Church. One woman who said that she attended a Christian church when asked what they taught replied, "Oh, I kiss the church (or perhaps the altar) and offer gifts to Gorgis." Gorgis is the patron saint of Abyssinia, and it seems as if about half the churches are named after him. She knew very little of Christ, little even of God, only Gorgis. She said Gorgis gave her health. There is practically no difference so far as can be seen between Moslem and Christian in these districts, so far as their fruits are concerned. The Moslems are not very well informed about their faith, and do not seem to be very set in it, but the Christians of the Abyssinian church are completely ignorant of the Bible and know nothing but to keep the feasts and fasts and indulge in such idolatry as above mentioned. This is the rank and file of the people. The ruling class and the better educated of the Amharas have a very accurate headknowledge of the Scriptures, though they live largely in the Old Testament to which they have added considerable of their traditions.

The homes of the common people of this district are mere huts or tuckle, the wall made out of poles, often bamboo, lashed together with rawhide or native rope and plastered thinly with mud or cow-dung. The roof is cone-shaped, made of small poles fitted closely together and covered with a thick thratch of grass, upheld by a center pole from which about half way up from the ground 8 or 9 brace poles branch out to the roof. There are no windows and but one door to enter which you usually have to stoop a little. The house is about 12 to 15 feet in diameter, behind rough pole stanchions on the far side are seen several cows and oxen peacefully chewing their cud, while on the other side are the same number of sheep, and chickens above the door. What space is left is for the family.

DINNER

Today's Recipes.

Southern Bacon and Eggs—Fry bacon slightly on one side, turn and break eggs over same. Allow two short pieces of bacon to one egg. Try to have egg fall in center of two pieces so it won't "skid off". Pour four to six tablespoons of milk around edge of pan, depending upon number of eggs. Season and cover. Cook until top is white.

Tennessee Appled Sweets—Line casserole with butter generously. Put in layer of sliced apples. Sprinkle with brown sugar and pieces of butter, layer of sweet potatoes, sliced thin; season with a little salt. Continue to alternate layers until dish is filled. Cover. Put in slow oven until "taters" are soft. If the apples are all absorbed by the potatoes that is as it should be. However, they are just as good if still separate. Cover with marshmallows and return to the oven to brown.

Poached Egg on Toast Salad—Place one slice of pineapple on nest of lettuce. Cover with ground or chopped nuts. Whip cream until stiff. Put as much cream as desired on pineapple, forming white of egg. Leave part of pineapple showing for toast. Take one-half of canned peach (if too large take slice off) and place rounded side up to form yellow of egg. This is a delicious and attractive salad. Everyone will like it for it has no dressing on it.

Speaks Regarding Needs Of Colored Welfare League

Rev. Wm. Hodge, President Of Welfare League Gives Inspiring Address

In a most enthusiastic address given at the St. John U. H. C. of A. on Friday evening, May 11, Rev. William Hodge, pastor of the Bethel A. M. E. church, in which he endeavored to show his audience of the need of such an organization as the Civil and Social Welfare League of which he is president.

Rev. Hodge said that the colored people of the community should make progress each year and each generation and that they could if they place a purpose in view and strive to reach that goal. He spoke of the need of a community building fitted for meetings, lectures, and a gymnasium for the young.

Let the negro first honor his Maker and serve him, then let him exercise his gifts and the doors will be opened, said the speaker.

He said, what we need is men, men who will stand up and be a man, stand up and face the world, respect himself and his women, men that will not use liberty for license, men who will support every good cause, men who will want to and will do something, men who will build up, not tear down.

Any information concerning the organization of the Civil and Social Welfare League may be obtained from the president, Rev. Wm. Hodge or from Rev. G. M. Walker, pastor of St. John U. H. C. of A.

Take Steps For Four Additional Rooms At Princeton School

School Board To Sell Bonds For Four Other Rooms Of New Building

At a meeting of the school directors of Slippery Rock township Monday evening, resolutions were passed for the sale of bonds sufficient to assure the construction of the four other rooms of the new consolidated school building, being built near Princeton.

Sometime ago the contract was let for the building of four rooms and gymnasium of the new eight room building, but it was found that there would not be funds enough to complete the project without the additional sale of bonds. The school board will now be able to sell sufficient bonds to complete the entire project.

Work on the new building is progressing very rapidly, according to Albert L. Thayer, architect, who says the foundation has been laid and the bricklayers started the work on the walls yesterday. It looks that at this rate the building should be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the fall term.

Five Persons Have Narrow Escape When Thrown From Auto

Top Of Car Breaks From Body When Automobile Fails To Make Curve

Five persons narrowly escaped death when a sedan in which they were riding failed to make a turn at the famous old stone house south of Slippery Rock. All occupants of the car were thrown from the car and escaped with cuts and bruises.

The car, driven by W. Howard Smith, Wilkinsburg, was enroute from Meadville. Mr. Smith was unfamiliar with the road and was traveling at a high rate of speed when he hit the curve. The car went off the road on the left, careened to the right, turned over twice and came to rest against the stone house filling station gasoline tanks.

As the sedan made its initial turn, all five occupants were thrown through the top, the force of the impact causing the top to give way. Dr. W. R. Hockenberry of Slippery Rock was called and dressed the wounds of the injured, none of which were serious. The occupants were then able to be taken to their homes.

Liver Eating Not 'Just a Fad'

Thousands Now Taking HEMO-LIVER

Millions of people are eating liver daily and there is a good reason for it. It is not because they enjoy eating liver. They know, as everybody ought to know, that liver contains the vital elements that create rich red blood that every man and woman must have in order to be strong and robust.

The vitalizing elements of liver will be used for years to come because of the marvelous benefits given to thin-blooded, weak, run-down men and women.

But who wants to eat liver as a continuous diet? Thanks to Science, the health-restoring elements in liver are now extracted and put up in a pleasant-to-take elixir called HEMO-LIVER.

A big 12-ounce bottle will last 8 days and a tablespoonful is a dose. One would have to eat liver a great many times to get as much benefit as Hemo-Liver will give you.

So gratifying have been the results to thousands of run-down, anemic, thin-blooded men and women that any progressive druggist will now sell you a bottle of Hemo-Liver with the distinct understanding that if you are not greatly improved, your money will be refunded.

As a Spring tonic it surpasses old-time remedies.

Get a bottle of Hemo-Liver today at Love & Megown.

Perfect Refrigeration

SIMPLIFIED—QUIET ECONOMICAL

Just what does simplicity mean in connection with an electric refrigerator? It means that it can be installed in a few minutes, that it will run indefinitely without oiling or attention. It means lower current consumption and more constant temperature. And it means perfect refrigeration that keeps food fresh, luscious and wholesome.

All the moving parts of the General Electric Refrigerator are enclosed in one hermetically sealed housing that keeps efficiency permanently in and trouble permanently out.

Over a period of fifteen years, sixty-four engineers worked toward this great electrical achievement. They made several thousand models of nineteen different types—field-tested them improved them.

Only an organization with the world-wide facilities and the unlimited resources of General Electric could have put so much man-power and so much money behind the development of a single product.

Models for every home are now on display. Come in and see them. In the meanwhile, mail the coupon below for an interesting descriptive booklet.

Outstanding Advantages

Coast To Coast In Forty-Eight Hours In New Combination

Announce Plans For Trans-Continental Train-Airplane Combination Trip

Passengers Will Travel Trains At Night And Planes In Daytime In New Idea

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 15.—Forty-eight hour service from coast to coast for the traveling public of the United States will soon be a reality. Announcement is imminent, it became known today, of the organization of a transcontinental air and railroad system, capitalized at $5,000,000, which will undertake to cut down the time it now takes to cross the country.

Linked in the new organization are the Pennsylvania railroad, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads, the National Air Transport and the Boeing and Western Air Transport Companies. The object of the company will be to provide a regular 48 to 52-hour passenger service from New York to San Francisco. The regular schedule from New York to Los Angeles will require 48 hours, later the service is to be extended to San Francisco.

Passengers will be carried on trains at night and on planes in the daytime.

Lindbergh Refuses

The new train-plane organization will be headed by C. M. Keys, president of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Company. Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was approached to head the company when it was in a formative stage, but declined. It is understood that he explained that while he saw in such a combination of services the swift advancement of aviation, he reiterated his frequently expressed intention of not becoming financially interested in any individual aircraft company, at least not for the present.

Present plans call for the following method of traveling: passengers bound for the coast will entrain from New York to Columbus, O., fly from there to Wichita, Kansas, sleep on a train to a point in New Mexico, and then fly to Los Angeles. Plane-train service from Columbus to points south and northwest is planned as soon as the transcontinental route is established.

Financing of the new company is in the hands of Haden, Stone & Company, Blair & Company, Knight Gamble & Dysart of St. Louis, J. C. Willson of Louisville and other banking houses.

The standard scheduled time for the transportation of air mail across the United States today is 31 hours. It is upon this swift service that the new traffic service is to be built up.

No definite date has been set for the inauguration of the new transportation system.

Tentative Schedule

The tentative schedule which has been worked out, however, calls for the passenger to go aboard a limited train at the Pennsylvania station in New York City at six o'clock in the evening. He arrives in Columbus at about eight the next morning. There he will be driven to the airport, where he will board a multi-motored passenger air liner, built for a cruising speed of more than 100 miles an hour and equipped with restaurant service furnished by the Fred Harvey restaurant system.

At Wichita the passenger will leave the plane and board a westbound limited of the Atchison. He will be on the train through the night, changing once more to a plane in the morning at some point in New Mexico. At five o'clock in the afternoon he will land at the Los Angeles airport.

An east-to-west schedule, equally fast, has been worked out, although details have not yet been revealed.

"There is no dearth of passenger business for air lines," said Colonel Paul Henderson, president of the National Air Transport, this morning. "The passenger travel on air lines has come a great deal faster than we expected and much faster than we have been able to handle it. The business of the future is most promising."

Men Seldom Make Return Of Purchase

Women Are Offenders In This Respect, Declares Credit Man To Lions

"Women are the greatest offenders when it comes to returning goods which they have purchased from some merchants. Whether it is the high pressure methods used by sales people that is responsible, or whether it is the result of their ancient perogative to change their minds I do not know. But these are the facts."

These were the statements made by A. B. Buckeridge, president of the Associated Credit Bureaus of Pennsylvania and manager of the Pittsburgh Credit Bureau, who is in New Castle today attending the convention of credit bureau managers, when he spoke before the New Castle Lions club at noon today in the main dining room of the Elks Home.

Mr. Buckeridge continued by saying that over 11 per cent of all the goods purchased in the metropolitan area of Pittsburgh is returned to the stores. Men, he states, do not return goods, or when they do, it is because their wives object to their purchase. Men know what they want, and buy it, paying little heed to the salesmen.

The operation of the Pittsburgh Credit Bureau was next explained. Mr. Buckeridge declaring that in theory it differs but little from the New Castle Credit Exchange.

The value of a credit exchange, he averred, is shown by the fact that during the last year the Pittsburgh bureau passed on $15,000,000 worth of merchandise before it was released to the customers.

At the same meeting almost all of the members of the Lions club declared that they will atttend a sectional meeting, to take place at Beaver Falls on the evening of May 23rd.

Harry Good, Enon Valley, Solves Problem Of Letting Cat Into Home At Night

Kindness and thoughtfulness were ever a part of Harry M. Good's make-up. Harry, you will remember, once got your mail to you when the world was made safe for democracy. President Wilson appointed him postmaster at New Castle and he liked the job so well that he took it for a second term. That is, Harry did. Wilson did also, but this narrative concerns the ex-postmaster of New Castle.

After leaving his stamps and money orders in the hands of the Republicans, Harry emigrated to Enon Valley and for the past several years has been a big bulb and flower man. Raises gladiolas as high as your fondest expectations. Sends bouquets to kind old ladies who make up the Rocking Chair brigade. Always thinking of some one else, that's Harry.

Has a Cat.

Now Harry has a cat, a big bushy tailed fellow, one of these Thomas cats.

Long association with Harry has given the Thomas cat that indefinable something we call charm, or personality. Scientifically it would be called the Biological Urge, socially it would be called IT.

Out in Enon Valley, Harry Good's Thomas cat is the life of every party he attends. The lady cats in the village are a unit in agreeing that the Good cat, that is the Thomas cat of Harry Good, rates as No. 1 among the feline society and the result is that Harry's cat has a calling list as long as some of the gladiolas Harry raises.

Just can't keep up with his lits, and the result is that Thomas does his social work at night and sleeps all day. A sort of Midnight Son.

Every night its the same. When the evening shadows fall over Gladhaven, the Thomas cat starts out to give the lady cats of the village a treat, and by the time he gets around to all of his friends, the hour says three in the morning.

Which is no time for even a socially prominent cat to be getting in, but then like his owner the Thomas cat doesn't like to get behind in his work.

For a long time the cat annoyed Harry by his early morning peregrinations. That is, not that Harry cared how late the cat stayed out if only he wouldn't bother the household after the party.

But every night, or rather morning, the Thomas cat came prowling around the back door, yowling to the high heavens that he wanted to sleep, and being a particular cat, he didn't like to sleep on the porch.

Being awakened at three in the morning to let the midnight son in the house gets monotonous, even to a genial soul such as Harry Good, and the necessity arose of getting some arrangement whereby the cat could enjoy his catnip parties and Harry could get his sleep.

And here enters genius. After considerable thought and study in the matter Harry finally conceived the idea of a bridge from the branches of the apple tree handy the house, to the roof of the porch. By leaving the window open the Thomas cat can walk across the bridge and straight through the window.

The scheme has worked like a charm. The Thomas cat is still making his calls every evening, and Harry is getting his sleep.

Wealthy Girl Is Planning To Enter Convent At Sharon

Miss Jane Bremner, 19, Daughter Of Wealthy Biscuit Magnate To Enter Convent

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 15.—Miss Jane Bremner, 19, daughter of James R. Bremner, millionaire biscuit manufacturer, has wired her father from Europe that she is returning home to enter a convent it became known today.

The girl it was said had expressed a desire to embrace religious life following her graduation from Rosemont college near Philadelphia. Her parents persuaded her to wait until she had seen something of the world. Accordingly Mrs. Bremner took Jane and her four sisters to Europe last fall.

Neither the gaieties of the old world nor the romantic mission of her sister Marion who is collecting her trousseau in the fashionable shops of London and Paris could cause Jane to forget her original intention.

According to the message to her father the girl has set her heart on joining the Sisters of the Holy Child Jesus at Sharon Pa. The order has several schools including Rosemont college where Miss Bremner attended.

New Castle Hops Into First Place

Defeats Cleveland, While Akron Trims Canton In O. & P. Tilts

CLEVELAND DROPS DOWN TWO NOTCHES

New Castle is at the top of the O. & P. League, according to statistics compiled today, New Castle having set back Cleveland Sunday 4 to 3 thereby hopping into first place. The Akron team having won from Canton 8 to 0 are in second place.

The victory by Akron and defeat of Cleveland by New Castle sent Dolk Novario's outfit to third place while Beaver Falls is fourth and Canton fifth.

There will be no league game at Centennial field Saturday but the Homestead Grays will fill the role of visitors and having one victory to their credit no doubt will prove a good attraction.

Italian A. C. Tops Colored Stars 9-2

The Italian A. C. opened their 1928 season in the National section of the Lawrence County Twilight League on Monday night at Centennial field by dropping the National Radiator Colored Stars 9 to 2.

Turco had the pitching assignment for the Italians and turned in a brilliant exhibition, holding the Stars to four hits and fanning four batters. The Italians found the hurling of Watters for ten hits. The hitting of Panas and Truni featured the game.

LEONARD KNOWS HOW TO TRIPLE

Sank McCullough And Hogan Are Also Banging Ball

First Baseman Snyder of Akron evidently doesn't believe in the old adage "Pole 'em where they ain't" as his first time at bat resulted in a long fly to center field and Kenny Hogan didn't have to move an inch to take the catch, completing the third out in Akron's first turn at bat.

Leonard, the southpaw batter who cavorts in left field for New Castle looks like the goods. He started the hitters proclivities for the Centennials Saturday in his first time to bat, a triple reaching the right field fence but the long hit didn't do any good as with one out, Grimes fanned and McCullough was thrown out, short to first. His second triple in the seventh was different as the blow scored Hogan who reached first on an error.

That third inning was a wierd spectacle but they say bad beginnings have good endings. However, the saying is not always true, at least not in baseball. Underwood worked himself into a hole by passing the opposing hurler Knell who by the way was the third man walked. He stole second when Slim heaved wild but Yoxcheimer made the play on him. Slim extended another complimentary to Hulicj and Mostade advanced the runners by sacrificing, Knell to Snyder. The fans groaned after Sankey McCullough worked Knell between third and home and Yoxcheimer threw over Sankey's head. The fact is however, that Grimes should have covered third base and had he done so Knell would have been retired. Everybody but Snyder scored and he romped home a second later when Underwood threw a pitch away.

Smith, left fielder for Akron staged a neat piece of leg work in the third when Underwood sent a fly to left center. He had a long run but he got the ball. Hogan went out to Hostetler and a moment later Smith took Leonard's fly.

Akron got their first hit in the fourth when Bosco singled to center and it appeared as though the hit would be good for a triple as Hogan had little chance to get it. However he did get it and drew an ovation for holding it to a single.

Sankey McCullough, removed from the outfield to take Hughes' place at third base has been playing good ball and so far has made five hits in two games played here. In the fourth inning at Centennial his fast grounder was too hot for Mostade but a fielder's choice and a double play kept the score column blank.

Talking about baseball the fans have been conspicuous by their absence here and during the two games played at Centennial field the total number has not exceeded five hundred. Every time an O & P league team plays here the local club has to guarantee the visiting aggregation a lump sum of $150 and it is safe to say that the club has already dropped

Wins Mammoth Cave Race At Louisville

Turns In Impressive Performance Under 118 Pounds In 1:45 2-5 For Mile And Sixteenth; During Past Ten Years Majority Of Favorites Have Captured Classic Kentucky Derby At Churchill Downs

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 15.—The still, small voice of doubt concerning those 10 to 1, 6 to 1 and even 4 to 1 future bets on Reigh Count's nozzle in the derby was almost no more this morning. It had been lulled into a sense of comparative security by the Count's impressive performance in winning the Mammoth Cave purse yesterday under 118 pounds and well restrained in 1:45 2-5 for the mile and a sixteenth. He went on to Saturday's distance under equal restraint in 2:05 2-5, and full many a future derby will be won in time no better than that.

If anything was needed to insure the fact that Reigh Count will be a prohibitive favorite in the derby, his race in the Mammoth Cave settled the matter.

It also settled that still, small voice, mostly lifted among eastern racing men, in question of Ben Michell's training of the Hertz colt. They said Ben was arranging for the Count to leave his race on the training track by running him too hard, too often and too far in the morning works. It didn't seem to make any difference that Henley Webb used the same tactics with Black Gold and Barry Shannon did much the same with Bubbling Over. The Count was being burned up, they said, and a lot of sap money was to join the conflagration.

Plenty of Reserve

However, a 2:05 2-5 performance five days before the big race speaks for itself. You can't go behind facts any more than you can go behind the heel of your shoe, and the facts here are that Reigh Count beat some pretty good derby candidates, including Jack Higgins, Lawley and Colonel Shaw, and did it with much in reserve. His time for a mile and a sixteenth was nothing unusual, but the cold obviously was not doing his running over the first half mile in trailing Odgson, Lawley and Jack Higgins, and even when he was left down by Lang he came to the pace with so little effort as to indicate that he had plenty left if he needed it, which apparently he didn't.

Anyhow, I can't see anything to shiver about in the fact that you have your money riding on the favorite. There, unfortunately, has been as yet no amendment added to the racing code which prohibits a favorite from losing and it must be admitted that the derby has produced its share of disappointing public choices—but not in the last 10 years.

The lore of the Downs, in fact, is fast taking on the suggestion that a derby favorite stands up. Zev was a roundly played favorite. He won. So were Bubbling Over, Morvich, Sir Barton, Black Gold and Exterminator. They won. Go back a few years and you will find Paul Jones, George Smith and old Rosebud, the record holder—winners all.

In fact, since the victory of the filly, Regret, only Flying Ebony really could be looked upon as an outsider and there have been no actual standouts in a field such as he faced.

All in all, the man is not so dumb who takes the outsider in the derby nowadays. He is dumber—old stuff, maybe, but still good.

Will Collett Collect?

By Feg Murray

Glenna Collett the most feared lady of the links (I mean feared by British and French ladies when it comes to winning their national titles) and the best known of all American women players is now in her third invasion of the British Isles with a very definite object in view. I don't mean that she has put an ad in the London Times, 'Position wanted. Female. Young lady educated in the states would like job of chaperon to British Women's Championship cup for period of one year." or anything like that for we all know very well that all the putting she will do will be on the greens at the Hunstanton Golf club.

But you see, this is Glenna's third trip abroad in search of a title and many people sort of feel that this time she will be successful. When she lost to Joyce Wethered in 1925 she was beaten by the greatest woman golfer in the world and fought very valiantly and courageously while playing wonderful golf herself. Then the industrial strike postponed the 1926 tournament and Miss Collett was forced to come home without competing for the title.

In the qualifying round of the women's South Atlantic championship at St. Augustine, Glenna gave a rude shock to many a male golfer who thought he was good because he had broken 80 by shooting a sizzling 74. Not only can she send her drives far and straight down the fairway and sink her putts but Miss Collett's iron play is becoming more and more steady. If any girl from these shores is to twist the British lion's tail she is the one to do it.

HARRY RICE

Harry Rice may soon make Manager George Moriarty of the Detroit Tigers happy that he got the peppy center fielder from the St. Louis Browns—if Rice continues his current excellent work.

Rice was traded to the Tigers for Lu Blue and Heinie Manush. So far this season he has gobbled up a host of would-be hits in his territory.

Against Chicago recently Harry drove in seven runs, one below the American league record, in the first four innings of the game.

$200 this season. No doubt cold weather has had something to do with the slim attendance but with the Homestead Grays here Saturday there should be a tremendous crowd. The Grays hold one victory over New Castle and the latter hopes to even the count Saturday.

In the field at Massillon, Grimes played an erratic game and his miscues gave the fans heart failure. But on the other hand Grimes was a hero at bat and helped share honors with Leonard. It was Grimes' timely hitting in the eighth that won and put New Castle at the top of the league.

"It was fortunate for Coen that he had a stout heart and something on the apple for he generally managed to wiggle out of tight places by some good pitching," says Fred Becker in the Massillon Independent in recording the game with Cleveland. Coen gave only one free trip to first and struck out eight batters. In winning from Cleveland, Coen got a victory over Ted Kleinhouse, whom Doik Novario and other managers claim is the best pitcher in the league. Maybe yes and maybe no.

While New Castle was winning, the Beaver Falls Elks were busy winning from Canton. The score by 5 to 1. The score was deadlocked in the seventh. Kestner played a good game in the field for the Elks and Frank Mills, former Castle Cord, had three hits and a sacrifice.

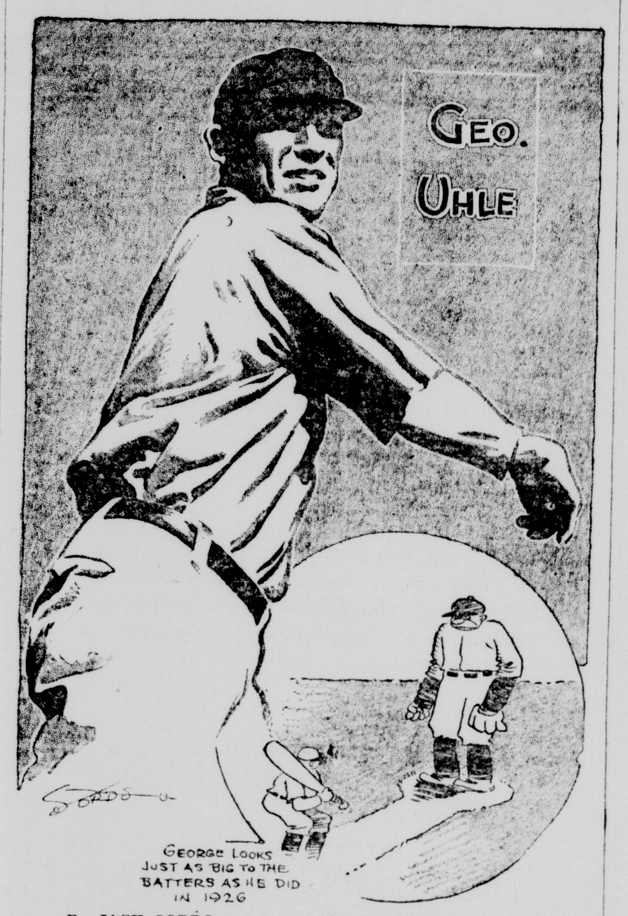
SORDS POINTS

Tribe Follows Uhle's Lead And Wins



By JACK SORDS,
Sports Cartoonist-Writer of Central Press and New Castle News.

One of the pleasantest surprises of the current baseball season—pleasant at least to Ohionans—has been the little short of sensational play of the Cleveland Indians.

The brilliant stand of the stalwart Redskins against the warlords of the west and strong hosts of the east in the American league has been due in the main to excellent pitching.

It is becoming more evident daily that the Tribe has the best hurling staff in the junior circuit and at the head of their rifle squad stands Geo. Uhle, veteran now tarring in a comeback role of great proportions.

It is an old saying in the American league that as Ruth goes so go the Yankees. The same phrase is applicable to Uhle and the Indians.

Last season Uhle won eight and lost nine a terrific flop from his 1926 showing when he won 26 and lost 11. And that year the Tribe was in second place. When Uhle was stumbling along last season the Tribe was nowhere.

Uhle had a poor year in 1925 and so did the Tribe. That season George scored but 13 wins and 11 loses and the Indians floundered in sixth position.

Going still further back we find Uhle in 1924 winning only nine games and losing 15 and the Indians way down in the second division. But in 1923 when George won 26 and lost 16 the Tribe traveled in the third spot.

Uhle out to redeem himself after the 1927 debacle, is bound to be a great aid to the Redskins in their desparate fight for a place in the sun.

Already the big righthander has an impressive list of early season wins. True, May wins are often due to the opposition suffering from lack of practice but they count for just as much as the tilts won in September.

Under the guidance of Manager Roger Peckinpough it is highly possible that the Redskins may be in there in September, led by the long arm of George Uhle and battling to the death with the Yanks, Athletics and perhaps the Browns for the big honors.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Glenna Collett came through in spectacular fashion yesterday at Hunstanton and eliminated Mlle. Simone de la Chaume, French and British titleholder three and one in the British women's open golf championship. Later Monday, Glenna won from Shirley Lemplough 7 and 6 and it appears that unless there is an upset Miss Collett should advance to the finals without undue strain as Mlle. Simone de la Chaume was her outstanding opponent.

According to New Castle boys who travelled to Ohio to see the bunionless derbyists, it is a game in which many hope and few will succeed. They prove the assertion that it is one of the cruelest tests of nature that could have been worked from imagination to reality by the furtive brain of C. C. Pyle. Thursday night at the Elks culb a dinner will be tendered Earl Dilks who was forced from the race by a pulled tendon.

Approximately 20 entries will start in the Kentucky Derby to be raced at Churchill Downs Saturday. It is the world's premier race and today Reign Count is favored to win as the result of his sensational performance Saturday and Monday. Victorian, winner of the Preakness, has been withdrawn. Already the surge toward Louisville has commenced as the Derby is a sight never to be forgotten.

Ahem, the old rubber collar gentleman may come back to the fight game, speaking of course of not other than Luis Firpo. It is said he is not doing so well in business and would like to collect a few more dollars. Monte Munn is going to test out Firpo at Buenecs Aires and if Luis turns Monte over he will wire that dear old keeper of the fight money, Tex Rickard.

REAL ESTATE OWNER IN AUTO FATALITY

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 15.—Abraham B. Rose, 59, for many years a leading business man, operating three men's furnishing stores in Youngstown and one in Warren, was killed yesterday at McGehee, Arkansas, where he was visiting his daughter. Mr. Rose was struck by an automobile. He was a large real estate owner.

The person who pines over his hard luck needs to spruce up a bit.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 15.—Public enthusiasm for transportation stock of all varieties, airplane, automobile and railroad, boomed aggressively into the stock market at the beginning of trading today. Curtiss responded with a new 10½-point jump to 165 to the reports that Pennsylvania railroad would establish an air passenger service in conjunction with its coast-to-coast passenger transportation business, and Wright Aero sold up 7 points at 204 in active trading.

A block of 60,000 shares of Studebaker opened the day at an advance of 4½ points at 71¾, the stock subsequently advancing to above 72. Chrysler reacted 2 points on profit taking, but the stock was in active demand.

High prices for copper metal stimulated strong buying of the copper stocks. Anaconda, American Smelting, Nevada, Cerro De Pasco, Magna and other well known copper stocks continued the sharp rally which started near the close of Monday's market. Rails were firm, with high grade dividend shares in demand.

Call money was unchanged at 5½ per cent.

Double Forces Guarding Court At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 15.—Determined to prevent intimidation of witnesses called before the Federal Grand Jury inquiry into politically controlled violation of the prohibition laws in Pittsburgh, government authorities today ordered the force of special investigators on duty at the Federal building here doubled.

Following reports that witnesses had been approached and questioned after appearing before the jury, in an effort to learn what testimony they had given, detectives began an investigation of this angle. Predictions were that suspected persons will be taken before the grand jury to explain their purpose in loitering about the Federal building.

FOREST FIRE DOOMS TOWN

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., May 15.—A forest fire, sweeping toward Windy City, a small oil lease settlement five miles from here, this afternoon apparently doomed the settlement, and its residents, approximately forty persons, prepared to flee.

Forest rangers, fighting desperately to keep the fire from blocking the Kane road, the only means of escape from the doomed village, warned the residents of Windy City that there is little hope of checking the flames.

A crew of one hundred men fought the fire, which started while the men in the settlement were at work on oil leases. Hurried telephone calls brought 40 forst rangers.

Women fought the flames while help was enroute.

The West Penn Power Company and James Chemical Company dispatched all available crews to the scene.

There was near panic in the small settlement as the flames swept on toward the Kane road, which would cut off communication and abandonment of the village is believed imminent.

It is believed that Courtney will follow the same route he planned for his flight last year. At that time he got no further than the Azores, due to storms. He expects to land at the Azores for fuel and then hop off on a non-stop flight to Newfoundland.

The plane will be equipped with wireless.

Family Overcome By Gas Fumes Sues For $10,000 Damage

W. H. Newton And Wife Of Ellwood City Bring Suit Against John Nichols

William H. and Irma Newton, his wife, of Ellwood City have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against John Nichols, trading as the Nichols' Bakery in which he asks $10,000 damages, as a result of inhaling gas fumes from the defendant's bakery.

In the statement of claim it is alleged that the defendant is not the owner of the building, which is a two story cement block structure with two store rooms on the first floor and living rooms on the second floor. The plaintiff occupied the south flat above the bakery, having leased it as a sub tenant from Nichols in November, 1927.

There was a floor register from which heat was obtained from the bakery, in which were located two large gas stoves. One of these, it is claimed, was defective, and permitted gas to escape.

On the night of Jan. 27, 1928 the fumes from the bakery, coming through the floor register, rendered Mr. and Mrs. Newton and their two children, Paul and Robert, unconscious.

Mr. Newton and his son Paul, were the worst affected. Newton claims that as a result he was under a doctor's care for some time and lost work at the tube plant where he was able to earn $3 a day.

Paul developed an affection of the lungs. It is claimed in the suit that Nichols' knew the condition of the gas stove and was negligent in not having it repaired.

Mercer Jail Does Record Business

Cell House Is In Over-Crowded Condition Two-Thirds Of Time

MERCER, Pa., May 15.—Since January 1st of the current year the Mercer county jail has done a record business the books of the institution show.

Over two-thirds of the time the jail has been in a sadly over-crowded condition. The present total is 80 prisoners which would be 30 in excess of the jail capacity. The need of a prison farm where both the men and women held in the jail can be committed and put to work is being more strongly expressed every day.

Not only would this action save to the county the thousands of dollars that the work house bills total but the congested jail condition would be relieved.

NEW CASTLE DRY GOODS CO.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Styles change in everything. Neckties, and straw hats, and ladies' dresses, automobiles, bridge girders and fountain pens. This thing they call style has its effect upon all of them, and dancing is not immune from its ravages or its changing order.

It takes the outdoor season to expose or reveal or discover the new styles in dancing. The spring weather seems to engender new ideas in the feet of the terpsichorean devotees and with the opening of the outdoor dancing season comes a lot of new steps.

Now perhaps what I'm thinking is a new step isn't so new, but mass production has been delayed until now. It's a stomp, not a step, requiring a pair of heavy shoes and strong leg muscles, and when done properly by a lot of dancers sounds like a troop of cavalry horses at feeding time in a wooden barn.

In appearance the new stomp resembles a puddler trying on a pair of new shoes and in order to get all his feet inside stomps them down.

If this new dance step takes hold it means ruination for the manufacturers of rubber heels, for a pair of rubber heels in this dance is about as much in place as a saxophone in a boiler shop. As a helpful gesture may I suggest that an old fashioned doubler's clog such as was used in hot mills years ago, would be just the thing, or failing to get that, a pair of hobnails, such as a muleskinner used in the army.

It adds a new element to dancing. Heretofore grace and rhythm have been all that was necessary, now noise takes its place in the list. Of course, it may break down a perfectly good dance hall, but then why bring that up, one must be in style.

Perhaps it's the influence of the early Dutch, when the wooden shoe dance was considered quite the thing, or it may be the influence of the riveting hammer which has been used so much lately. Whatever it is, the stomp nearly drowns out the music.

Saw a new place for license plates last night. A car of well known Detroit manufacture, last night on Washington street had the plate in back of the windshield. The driver probably didn't want to bend it all up when he hit anybody.

Getting back to styles, if you don't mind, theatrical productions these days are called revues. And the Lincoln-Garfield school youngsters, always up and up with the style, are staging a revue on May 23. If you happen to be in the neighborhood of the school on the evening of May 23, drop in and they'll show you a production of real merit.

There aren't any more bond-servants. But the bonds issued by this generation will make the next one almost that way.—Rochester Times-Union.

Fruit Is Undamaged By Frosts And Cold

Some Trees May Be Damaged, But Most Of Crop Is Saved, Says Mercer Agent

MERCER, Pa., May 15.—It is the belief of County Farm Agent W. S. Hagar that Mercer county's fruit crop was not damaged seriously by the frosts and cold weather of the week end due to the fact that the blossoms were not far enough advanced.

Of course there will be trees damaged but the major portion of the crop is saved says Hagar.

Council Takes No Action On Request

Gilfillan's Plea For Miles Sewer Connection Undeeded

Attorney J. Clyde Gilfillan today appeared in behalf of A. C. Miles before council and requested the city to permit Miles to connect his property, Neshannock township, with the North Mercer street sewer. Solons took no action on the request as the property referred to is for store purposes and opposite a district in the city which prohibits such buildings.

Gilfillan maintained that should an outside lavatory be built near the Euclid avenue school it would be better for the city to recede from its position and allow the connection and that Miles would pay the connection cost.

He said that the voters may cast balliots this fall for the annexation of Neshannock township to the city and in such event Miles would be allowed to connect with the sewer. Council held firm to their position and said they would support the law relative to zoning.
